

Axis Desert Army Well Stocked With Supplies From Conquered Nations

By EDWARD KENNEDY

With British Forces Advancing Toward Libya, Nov. 10 (AP)—The British Eighth army, jubilantly pursuing the humbled remnants of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's army into Libya, was made happier than ever today by President Roosevelt's word that United States troops in North Africa planned to cross Tunisia and help trap the harried Axis forces in Libya.

MATRUH IS CLEAR

While mobile elements of the Eighth Army churned into Libya only a few hours behind the Axis troops in an effort to complete their victory, other Allied groups were cleaning out the last pockets of resistance in Egypt. Matruh is now clear and peaceful.

British bombers of the Middle East command blasted air-dromes on the Italian island of Sardinia, from which Italian and German bombers could attack the United States forces in North Africa, a communique said.

The tip of Sardinia is less than 200 miles from the Algerian coast and Algiers, now occupied by American forces, is little more than 300 miles from the island.

Allied bombers and fighters were making Rommel's passage into Libya as rough as possible by bombing and strafing the frontier area over which his beaten army was retreating, the communique said. There was very little enemy air opposition. The British shot down one Messerschmitt.

ENORMOUS SPOILS

The spoils left by the defeated Axis army in Egypt are enormous. Included in the booty are great quantities of Allied supplies, captured by the Axis in the advance to El Alamein, as well as stores of German and Italian material.

In one big German supply center we saw countless cans of corned beef previously lost by the British, but even greater Axis stocks.

Here was evidence of how the Germans are squeezing food out of the countries they have occupied—and Italy as well—to feed the German army. There were enormous supplies of tinned Danish hams and bacon, Norwegian sardines and herring, Dutch sausages, French and Italian wines and Italian mineral water and canned vegetables.

BREAD AND BEER

There also was the best German has in the way of food: delicious gingerbread from Neurnberg, tinned meat, butter, vegetables, excellent rye bread and Munich beer. Judging by this food dump, the German army is fed better than the British army—at least the German officers are.

The desert is strewn with vehicles, guns, tanks and other equipment which are being put into service by the British whenever it is practical.

Following up a force of General Grant tanks ordered to wipe out a small pocket of German resistance near Matruh, our car was turned into a makeshift ambulance when our conducting officer found a badly wounded Scottish captain.

REALLY GRATEFUL

I held the wounded officer in my arms as we sped several miles over a rough road to the nearest ambulance. The Scottish captain had bomb fragments in his spine, neck and legs, but did not wince.

He was just barely conscious after we put him in the ambulance. We asked him if he wanted water, whisky or a cigarette. He smiled and said no, he only wanted our names so he could thank us later.

Afterward, the doctor reported he was in a very serious condition.

While we sped to the ambulance, British tanks continued to hammer at the remaining Germans and as night fell the enemy nest was silenced.

The remaining Germans, who surrendered, said they knew their main force was many miles to the west and that they were cut off, but they added they had been ordered to resist.

FIND LONE PRIVATE

Most of them were young and ready to talk freely to relieve their nervousness. At a crossroads near Matruh we found an Austrian private who said he had just arrived from Crete.

Asked what unit he belonged to, he said he didn't know. He had been ordered to wait at the crossroads until a unit picked him up and had waited for three days. The British ended his wait.

YWCA WILL USE $1000 GIFT TO PURCHASE BOND

The $1,000 bequeathed to the Gettysburg YWCA earlier this year in the will of the late Mrs. Lillie K. Aughinbaugh will be invested in a Series "G" war bond and the interest will be used annually to purchase books for the "Y" library as a memorial to Mrs. Aughinbaugh, members of the board of directors of the "Y" voted at their regular November meeting Monday afternoon at the association building.

Investment of the $25 to be received annually as interest on the bond in expanding the "Y" library will be in keeping with Mrs. Aughinbaugh's interest in the welfare of that department of the YWCA's services to this community, board officers pointed out. While she was living Mrs. Aughinbaugh donated many books to the "Y" library in addition to her annual financial contribution.

Re-Cataloging Books

Re-cataloging of the present library is going forward with high school Girl Reserves doing the work, Miss Iona Reich, office secretary at the "Y," told the board members. She said that John H. Kneckerbocker, Gettysburg college librarian, is instructing the girls in library procedure.

Miss Reich also told the board of other phases of the current Girl Reserve program. Seventh and eighth grade Girl Reserve groups have been organized and are busy on a 10-point program that will lead to Girl Reserve buttons for the seventh graders and special emblems for those of the eighth grade. The program offers the group arts and crafts, community service, worship and devotional programs, home-making, and dramatics and fellowship programs.

Freshmen Girl Reserves are planning a Thanksgiving dinner and devotional program for November 20. Sophomores are planning a similar event for November 19.

Plans are being made at the "Y" for the ceremony of the Hanging of the Greens early in December at the association building.

The board president, Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, presided at the meeting with 10 present. The opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ira Henderson.

Theatre War Sales Totals $11,107.50

War bonds and stamps sales at the Majestic theatre last week amounted to $260.45, Mrs. A. H. Barr in charge of the volunteer women workers announced today. The total sales since the establishment of the booth is now $11,107.50.

Those aiding last week were Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Mrs. Baker, Evelyn Bartheaux, Kathleen Ortlip, Mrs. Richard Brown, Lona M. Black, Mrs. Edgar L. Deardorff, Mrs. Fred Haehlin, Mrs. C. Robert Deardorff, Mrs. Marie Steinhorn, Dora C. Beall and Mrs. W. J. Stallsmith.

Receive Yarn For Service Sweaters

The Adams county chapter of the Red Cross has accepted its next quota of about 400 pounds of yarn to be converted by volunteer workers into Army and Navy sweaters, socks, helmets and watch caps, it was announced Monday by the chapter secretary, Miss Margaret McMillan.

"The knitted garments provided by the Red Cross volunteer workers have been enthusiastically received by the men in the armed forces," the county chapter has been assured by national headquarters. The present quota is expected to be filled by the end of this year. The quota just assigned is for 1943.

LADIES GUESTS OF 2 SERVICE CLUBS MONDAY

The superior resources of the Allied Nations finally will win this war of "mutual attrition" but this won't be the last war unless a new idealism that takes into account the needs of all nations is recognized at the peace table that follows, Dr. M. C. Lehman, Mennonite leader who directed American relief work in warring and conquered countries of Europe until Pearl Harbor, told members of the Gettysburg Rotary and Lions clubs, their ladies and guests Monday evening at a dinner meeting at the Battlefield hotel.

Speaking on the subject, "What Do the Germans Want?" Doctor Lehman placed first on his list of German aims the "destruction of the British Empire, arch enemy of the Reich." Germany also seeks "world recognition of its needs as an industrial nation and unless those needs are given consideration at the peace table we may expect periodic explosions in the future," the speaker predicted.

Nazis Have Plenty

Reporting on his observations Doctor Lehman declared Germany has "plenty of food" but there is great suffering in Europe. In Poland, he said, the German army leaves the farmers only enough for bare existence so that the people of the Polish cities face starvation. In Greece, three and a half million people will starve this winter, many of them before Christmas, he predicted.

Presenting the German point of view on the war and its causes, Doctor Lehman said German thinking in connection with the war goes back to Versailles. He branded the German policy of "vengeance and retaliation" as "reprehensible" and predicted that if Germany should win in Europe the Nazis would find it a physical impossibility to police the conquered territory for any great length of time.

The speaker urged his audience to take a "realistic" view on the war.

BOARD DEBATES ENLARGING OF SCHOOL SPORTS

Development of cross-country contests and the expansion of inter-mural sports in the face of the probability that inter-scholastic basketball will be greatly curtailed or even eliminated by war restrictions were discussed by members of the Gettysburg school board at their regular November meeting, Monday evening.

With Superintendent Lloyd C. Keefauver the directors talked over plans for adjusting the high school curriculum and physical training program to fit the students in the best possible manner for the war-connected service they face upon graduation.

The directors agreed with the superintendent in the general principles laid down that physical training should be more intensive and that more attention shall be given to mathematics and the physical sciences. Tentative plans are being made for a special course in mathematics and physics to be offered senior boys as a means of fitting them for service in many phases of the war effort.

Good Financial Condition

One advantage of the proposed inter-mural sports expansion, it was pointed out, will be the increased participation in the sports program by a larger proportion of the student body.

Required by the state to publish a statement of school district assets and liabilities, Superintendent Keefauver submitted a report to the directors which showed the local school district has net indebtedness of approximately $20,000 offset by total assets of $436,526. The bonded debt of $35,000 is offset partially by collectable taxes.

The monthly statement of The Gettysburg National bank, school district treasurer, showed a balance of $49,039 in the general fund after October expenditures of $12,707 had been deducted. The sinking fund balance was given at $5,772.

School Nurse Back

Miss M. Kathryn Waganan, school nurse and attendance officer who has been absent because of illness for more than a month, returned to her duties Monday, the board was told.

A communication from Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, was received, asking permission for seminarians to use the high school gymnasium three evenings a week for playing basketball. The board directed a letter sent to Doctor Wentz expressing regret that the request (Please Turn to Page 2)

Countians Buy $106,755 Bonds In Three Weeks

For the first three quarters of October Adams countians purchased $106,755.25 worth of Series E, F and G bonds, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams county committee on war bonds and stamps sales, said today.

"This is another demonstration of the patriotism and Americanism of Adams countians who never have been found wanting in any emergency which this country has faced. It proves conclusively, again, that Adams county really is the first county in the Commonwealth," Mr. Thomas declared.

During the first quarter of the past month county purchases totaled $35,349.50 in bonds. In the second quarter purchases totaled $28,497 and during the third quarter purchases amounted to $42,908.75.

Sales of Series E bonds during the first three quarters totaled $52,456.25. Series F sales totaled $12,069 and Series G sales amounted to $42,200.

Mr. Thomas said that Adams county has met practically every monthly quota during the war bonds and stamps campaigns.

Treasury officials have repeatedly lauded the efforts of the countians in this county and commended countians for their generous response to the appeal of the Treasury department to help finance the war.

Our more will be closed Armistice Day, Thursday and Saturday.

CAPTURED

Admiral Jean Darlan, Commander of all Vichy French armed forces, was captured by American forces in Algiers when the Yankees invaded that French-colonial city. He is reported to be "entertained with all the consideration due his rank."

The map below shows the present picture under American domination. 1. On the west coast of Morocco losses were inflicted on the Vichy navy at Casablanca while landings were made at Agadir, Mogador and Safi. 2. Algiers and Oran are occupied. 3. Tunis is notified that Yankee troops were on their way (and they are now). The dotted arrow shows the route through Tunisia which the Yanks will take to strike at Rommel.

Admiral Darlan Is Prisoner Of American Forces

Tank-led American troops were reported to have entered the French Naval base at Oran today—the second big Mediterranean port to fall in less than 48 hours—while a United States column struck out southeastward from Algiers toward Italian Libya in a move to trap the retreating Axis armies in Egypt.

As the situation boiled to a climax, with American forces reported everywhere successful, Axis leaders were reported frantically seeking means to effect counterblows.

Call Nazi Help

Soviet quarters in London said German Field Marshal Erwin Von Witzleben had arrived in North Africa to direct Vichy (French) operations, and there was some speculation that the French fleet might attempt to put in at Bizert, on the Tunisian coast before U. S. forces arrive there.

The Berlin radio hopefully broadcast reports that the main French fleet had steamed from its European base at Toulon on Sunday, but nothing has been heard from it so far.

Tank-led U. S. Army soldiers and paratroopers were reported attacking a series of key points along the Mediterranean and Atlantic coasts, with heavy fighting raging at Casablanca and Orleansville, 110 miles east of fallen Oran.

Darlan Is Captured

An Allied headquarters spokesman announced that Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of all Vichy armed forces, was in Algiers in custody of U. S. forces.

The spokesman said Darlan was being "entertained with all the consideration due his rank."

As France's North African empire tottered, British advances said Adolf Hitler, Premier Mussolini and pro-Nazi Premier Pierre Laval of France were meeting in Rome.

A Vichy broadcast reported "superior armored forces" were violently attacking Casablanca, in French Morocco, but declared that Vichy troops were still holding out at the eastern approaches of the city.

Pétain In-Command

The broadcast said French coastal batteries and the 35,000-ton battleship Jean Bart were vigorously replying to the Allied assaults.

Vichy dispatches said France's 86-year-old chief of state, Marshal Philippe Pétain, had decided to assume command of French land, sea and air forces.

"American tanks entered Oran at 11:45 today," a Vichy (French) broadcast announced.

"Landing forces occupied the hill and fort of Santa Cruz, dominating the bay."

The Vichy announcement followed a previous broadcast declaring that armistice negotiations had collapsed and that fighting continued at Oran this morning.

2,000 Prisoners

Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Allied headquarters reported the capture of more than 2,000 prisoners as American tanks closed in on the city from three directions, and said:

"Our casualties are light."

Other major targets of attack in the three-day-old "second front" offensive included Casablanca, Atlantic port 300 miles southwest of Gibraltar; Rabat, capital of French Morocco, and Philippeville, 250 miles east of Algiers.

Philippeville lies close to the frontier of Tunisia, whose government head, the Bey of Tunis, has been notified by President Roosevelt that American troops plan to pass through the colony to help trap the Axis armies in Libya.

Rommel Still Running

Latest dispatches reported that the broken remnants of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps were now fleeing westward into Libya, leaving only rearguards to oppose the victorious British 8th army on the Egyptian-Libyan border.

A British communique said swiftly pursuing British vanguards engaged (Please Turn to Page 3)

United States progress in French North Africa:

American vanguards are moving toward Libya.

Oran, chief French port and Naval base, has been entered by a tank-led United States column. Casablanca, rejecting an offered armistice, is being pounded from the sea and enclosed by land encirclement.

More United States landings are reported in southern Morocco.

The crumbling of Vichy resistance:

Admiral Jean Darlan is a prisoner of the Americans at Algiers. Marshal Pétain himself has assumed Darlan's command of all Vichy French forces.

The Germans have sent Field Marshal Erwin Von Witzleben to North Africa to coordinate the colonial defenses, according to a Russian report.

The United States command has announced its readiness to accept General Henry Giraud as leader of an anti-Vichy uprising in French North Africa.

Pierre Laval is reported to have gone to Rome to take stock with Premier Mussolini of the peril suddenly arising in the south against Axis Europe.

The rout of Rommel:

Britain's Army of the Nile is smashing at Axis rearguards making their last stand on Egyptian soil.

Prime Minister Churchill called the battle of Egypt a "remarkable and definite victory. . . a new experience . . . perhaps the end of the beginning."

More Allied Ships Are Assembling Off Gibraltar

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—A Vichy broadcast reported today the arrival of powerful Allied naval reinforcements at Gibraltar, including both warships and transports.

The report, under La Linea, Spain, dateline, said the British aircraft carrier Furious and six destroyers had entered the fortress harbor this morning after having escorted a British convoy of 22 merchantmen, including two tankers, in from the Atlantic.

It said the 35,000-ton British battleship Nelson, a cruiser, several destroyers and two transports also were anchored at Gibraltar.

Air activity over the British stronghold was said to be even greater than yesterday with many fighters constantly on patrol.

Fourteen American bombers which had acted as aerial escort for the convoy landed at Gibraltar, the broadcast said, while 30 others bearing the United States star left during the morning—20 toward the Mediterranean and ten toward the Atlantic.

Four other twin-engined United States planes also were said to have headed east from Gibraltar.

Penelope Anne Sold For USO

"Penelope Anne," the once proud "shootin' iron" of the Adams county democratic party that boomed out democratic victories, will be converted into war materials to "boom" at the Axis partners.

Donated to the democratic party for scrap salvage the big brass gun was placed on display during the recent political campaign. Today Carl Kane, county chairman, sold the gun to a junk dealer and received $61.39 which he immediately turned over to the USO fund.

The gun weighed 877 pounds and brought seven cents a pound.

2 Tough Canadian Sailors Capture Crew Of Submarine

Halifax, Nov. 10 (AP)—Two tough Canadian sailors jumped aboard a German submarine in the Caribbean sea from the 725-ton Canadian Corvette Oakville and subdued and captured the stubborn German crew after the U-boat had been rammed into a sinking condition, a Navy announcement disclosed today.

The Oakville was directed to the submarine by a United States escort patrol plane, which bombed and damaged the U-boat and then dropped a flare to show the Oakville her position. The Canadian ship was part of an escort guarding a convoy.

The Oakville dropped depth bombs and, when the U-boat came to the surface, rammed her three times. While the submarine was motionless on the surface Lieut. Commander Clarence A. King of the Oakville decided to board the German craft rather than risk losing her.

Lieut. Harold Lawrence of Brookville, Ont., and Petty Officer Arthur Powell of Timmins, Ont., jumped to the U-boat's deck and made their way to the conning tower. Powell ordered the Germans to get down inside the sub so they wouldn't scuttle her.

"One fellow started to come at me so I just shot him," Lawrence said. "Another fellow made a go at Powell and he shot him, too." Both the Germans were killed.

While Powell remained on guard, Lawrence went into the U-boat, which was slowly filling with water, and searched for papers. When he emerged from the conning tower two Germans moved toward him and he knocked them into the water with his gun.

Waves started to break over the submarine as she sank slowly and Canadians and prisoners alike took to the water. They swam to small boats launched by a U. S. destroyer and were rescued.

CAPTURED

AT THIS HOUR

Admiral Jean Darlan, Commander of all Vichy French armed forces, was captured by American forces in Algiers when the Yankees invaded that French colonial city. He is reported to be "entertained with all the consideration due his rank."

The map below shows the present picture under American domination. 1. On the west coast of Morocco losses were inflicted on the Vichy navy at Casablanca while landings were made at Agadir, Mogador and Safi. 2. Algiers and Oran are occupied. 3. Tunis was notified that Yankee troops were on their way (and they are now). The dotted arrow shows the route through Tunisia which the Yanks will take to strike at Rommel.

More Allied Ships Are Assembling Off Gibraltar

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—A Vichy broadcast reported today the arrival of powerful Allied naval reinforcements at Gibraltar, including both warships and transports.

The report, under La Linea, Spain, dateline, said the British aircraft carrier Furious and six destroyers had entered the fortress harbor this morning after having escorted a British convoy of 22 merchantmen, including two tankers, in from the Atlantic.

It said the 35,000-ton British battleship Nelson, a cruiser, several destroyers and two transports also were anchored at Gibraltar.

Air activity over the British stronghold was said to be even greater than yesterday with many fighters constantly on patrol.

Fourteen American bombers which had acted as aerial escort for the convoy landed at Gibraltar, the broadcast said, while 30 others bearing the United States star left during the morning—20 toward the Mediterranean and ten toward the Atlantic. Four other twin-engined United States planes also were said to have headed east from Gibraltar.

Penelope Anne Sold For USO

"Penelope Anne," the once proud "shootin' iron" of the Adams county democratic party that boomed out democratic victories, will be converted into war materials to "boom" at the Axis partners.

Donated to the democratic party for scrap salvage the big brass gun was placed on display during the recent political campaign. Today Carl Kane, county chairman, sold the gun to a junk dealer and received $61.39 which he immediately turned over to the USO fund.

The gun weighed 877 pounds and brought seven cents a pound.

Admiral Darlan Is Prisoner Of American Forces

Tank-led American troops were reported to have entered the French Naval base at Oran today—the second big Mediterranean port to fall in less than 48 hours—while a United States column struck out southeastward from Algiers toward Italian Libya in a move to trap the retreating Axis armies in Egypt.

As the situation boiled to a climax, with American forces reported everywhere successful, Axis leaders were reported frantically seeking means to effect counterblows.

Call Nazi Help
Soviet quarters in London said German Field Marshal Erwin Von Witzleben had arrived in North Africa to direct Vichy (French) operations, and there was some speculation that the French fleet might attempt to put in at Bizert, on the Tunisian coast before U. S. forces arrive there.

The Berlin radio hopefully broadcast reports that the main French fleet had steamed from its European base at Toulon on Sunday, but nothing has been heard from it so far.

Tank-led U. S. Army soldiers and paratroopers were reported attacking a series of key points along the Mediterranean and Atlantic coasts, with heavy fighting raging at Casablanca and Orleansville, 110 miles east of fallen Oran.

Darlan Is Captured
An Allied headquarters spokesman announced that Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of all Vichy armed forces, was in Algiers in custody of U. S. forces.

The spokesman said Darlan was being "entertained with all the consideration due his rank."

As France's North African empire tottered, British advances said Adolf Hitler, Premier Mussolini and pro-Nazi Premier Pierre Laval of France were meeting in Rome.

A Vichy broadcast reported "superior armored forces" were violently attacking Casablanca, in French Morocco, but declared that Vichy troops were still holding out at the eastern approaches of the city.

Petaim in Command
The broadcast said French coastal batteries and the 35,000-ton battleship Jean Bart were vigorously replying to the Allied assaults.

Vichy dispatches said France's 86-year-old chief of state, Marshal Philippe Petaim, had decided to assume command of French land, sea and air forces.

"American tanks entered Oran at 11:45 today," a Vichy (French) broadcast announced.

"Landing forces occupied the hill and fort of Santa Cruz, dominating the bay."

The Vichy announcement followed a previous broadcast declaring that armistice negotiations had collapsed and that fighting continued at Oran this morning.

2,000 Prisoners
Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Allied headquarters reported the capture of more than 2,000 prisoners as American tanks closed in on the city from three directions, and said:

"Our casualties are light."

Other major targets of attack in the three-day-old "second front" offensive included Casablanca, Atlantic port 300 miles southwest of Gibraltar; Rabat, capital of French Morocco, and Philippeville, 250 miles east of Algiers.

Philippeville lies close to the frontier of Tunisia, whose government head, the Bey of Tunis, has been notified by President Roosevelt that American troops plan to pass through the colony to help trap the Axis armies in Libya.

Rommel Still Running
Latest dispatches reported that the broken remnants of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps were now fleeing westward into Libya, leaving only rearguards to oppose the victorious British 8th army on the Egyptian-Libyan border.

A British communique said swiftly pursuing British vanguards engaged (Please Turn to Page 3)

"I Hope Dwight Will Be A Good Boy" Says His Mother

Abilene, Kas., Nov. 10 (AP)—"I hope Dwight will be a good boy and come home soon."

That's the 82-year-old mother of Lieut.-Gen. Dwight David Eisenhower speaking, as she peers from behind the newspaper carrying the latest account of her famous son's north African exploits. She lives with a woman companion in a modest cottage.

All 5,658 residents of the general's old home town are, running a decided temperature.

"Abilene has not considered changing its name, or making Main street Eisenhower avenue," she said.

nuc—but it may happen yet," acknowledges Editor C. M. Harner of the Daily Reflector.

Being a general is a lonely life, he admitted in a letter to an Abilene friend last week. "I wish I could be home and go down to the cafe this morning and have a coke with the gang . . . I can't do that here."

His north African successes are no surprise to his mother. "I knew he would do something great," she said.

"You know, Dwight always gets what he wants, and though I don't see why we have wars, I hope he will win."

ALGIERS FALLS TO AMERICANS IN BRIEF FIGHT

By WES GALLAGHER
(U. S. Correspondent With the AEF in Africa)

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Nov. 9 (2 a. m.) (AP)—American combat forces led by Maj. Gen. Charles W. Ryder have wrested one of the key points in the western Mediterranean from Axis domination with the swift occupation of the port of Algiers despite strong opposition from Vichy's naval units.

The famous city fell just 12 hours after a lightning assault directed by the six-foot-three American officer, known to his men as a rough, tough fighter.

Ready for Axis

The port is the only one within easy reach of German air bases in Sardinia and Sicily, but the synchronized arrival of American fighter planes on Algiers airfield within a few seconds after their capture made it sure that any raiding Nazi bombers would get a hot reception.

A covering force of American fighters permitted use of the port for unloading troops which completed the occupation.

Oran, some 250 miles west of Algiers and the heart of Admiral Jean Darlan's German-inspired resistance, continued to offer strenuous opposition, particularly by Navy-controlled coastal batteries.

In between the two key ports American landings encountered only the lightest resistance. The troops were welcomed by the population and made deep penetrations.

Fighting along the Atlantic coast, meanwhile, remained confused.

The surrender of Algiers was negotiated at 7 p. m. (3 p. m. EWT) yesterday and provided for complete occupation of the city by the American forces at dawn today.

Take Two Airports

The first objectives of the American forces—Fort Sidi Ferruch and Aintaya west of Algiers—were taken without a struggle. The Americans immediately moved inland and launched an assault on the Maison Blanche and Bida airdromes. The former surrendered and the latter was taken quickly by a United States combat force which included some of the famous American Rangers.

U. S. air force officers reported there was no extensive aerial opposition throughout the entire operation, although there was some bombing of Allied shipping.

At both Algiers and Oran, French colonial naval units came out of the harbors to engage Allied vessels, but were fired upon immediately and retired after suffering some losses.

HULL UNMOVED BY VICHY ACT

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Official word came to the State department today that France, as represented by the Vichy government, had broken off relations with the United States.

The department, stonily indifferent to how Pierre Laval and his fellows feel about the liberation move of American forces into French north Africa, supplied no details of the formal rupture and made no comment.

It merely said S. Pinkney Tuck, American charge d'affaires at Vichy, had transmitted Laval's note of yesterday.

And thus ended the riddle of the administration's long-drawn-out maintenance of diplomatic relations with a government which it periodically and bitterly denounced.

In an extraordinary Sunday press conference held almost at the moment Chief of Government Pierre Laval announced in Vichy that relations with the United States had been broken, Secretary of State Hull emphasized that the United States had maintained relations since 1910 chiefly for the purpose of paving the way for the current military expedition against north Africa.

2 State Soldiers Get Silver Stars

General headquarters, southwest Pacific area Nov. 9 (AP)—Thirty-eight officers and men of the United States Army Air Corps from twenty different states have been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action against the enemy in the southwest Pacific area.

Lieutenant General George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied Air force in this area, announced the awards, all but two of which covered heroic acts over New Guinea and New Britain and adjacent waters.

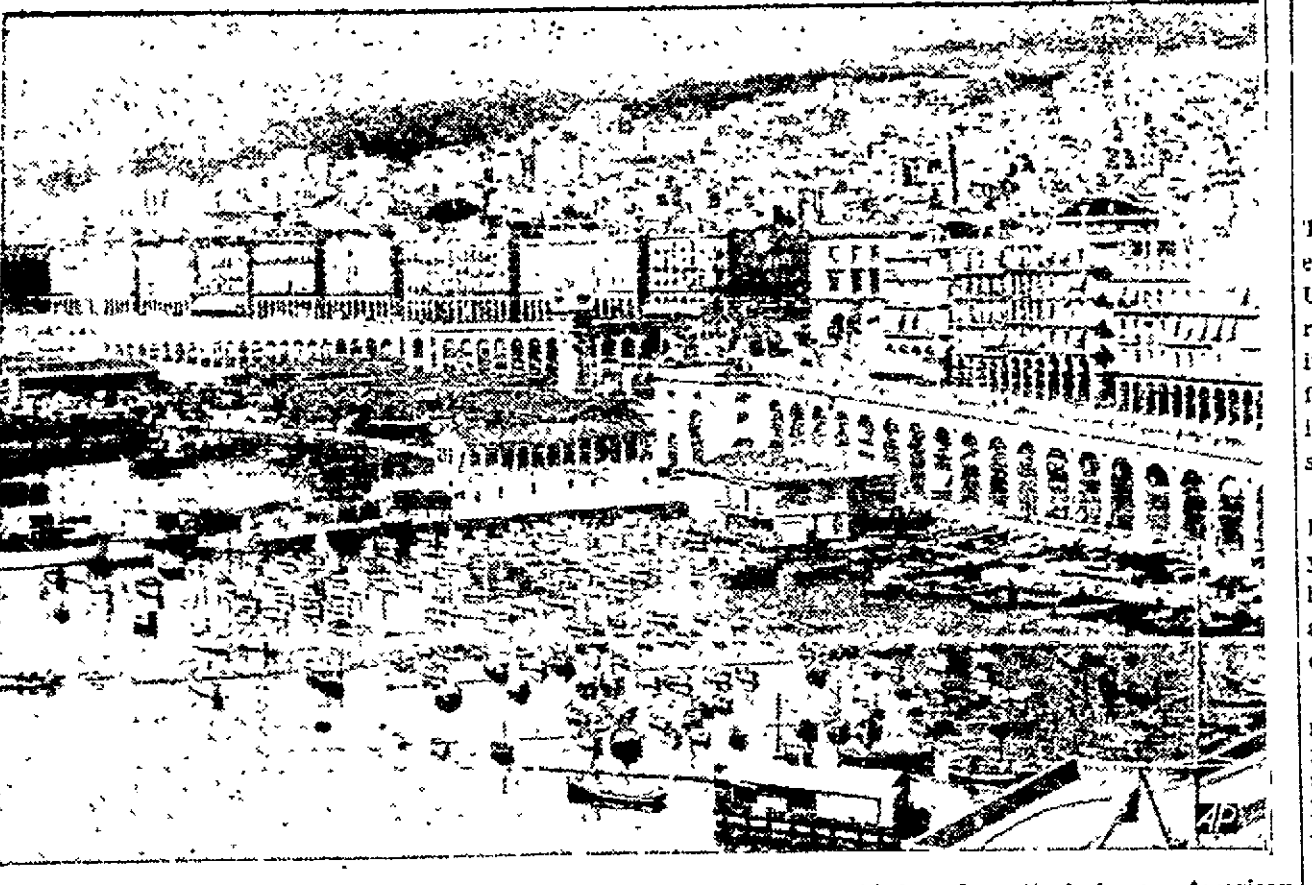

General Kenney's latest awards list included Silver Stars for Capt. Ignatius Sarocent, North Wales, Penn., and Sgt. Joseph M. Hines, 13 James street, Pittsion, Penn.

EISENHOWER CAPTURES CITY OF ALGIERS

Algiers, capital and famous seaport of French Algeria, which tumbled under attack by an American invasion force. General Dwight D. Eisenhower, former commander of Camp Colt, at Gettysburg, during the first World War, led the American forces.

Yanks Take Vichy Colonies

Reinforcements arrived in French Morocco during the night, the Vichy radio reported.

The Berlin radio said, however, that additional British Naval forces had left Gibraltar, apparently escorting transports, and 55 fresh planes had flown from the rock.

Admiral Jean Darlan, British-hating chief of Vichy's armed forces, approved the capitulation of Algiers and, for a time at least, may have been a prisoner. His fate was not announced.

Less than 24 hours after the first invasion barges grounded, the government of Marshal Petain and Pierre Laval severed already tenuous relations with the United States.

The action was taken despite a message of President Roosevelt to the aged marshal which said that the ultimate aim was to free France and her empire from the German yoke, a phase in a program to "provide automatically for the security of the Americas."

Petaim Is Sad

Petaim expressed "bewilderment and sadness"; ordered French forces to resist with all their strength.

London observers said the stiffest opposition in Africa probably would be put up by Darlan's Navy and Naval-controlled coastal batteries.

If land opposition is not great, the good communication routes of Algeria should enable the Allied Army to move eastward at a speed greater than that of the British Eighth Army in its pursuit of the remnants of Marshall Rommel's African corps westward.

Admit 10 Landings

With the American landings—at least 10 were reported by Vichy to have been made on the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts—the Allies' battle line appeared to be forming with a speed undreamed of a few weeks ago.

Skirting Spanish Morocco, the first expeditionary units—estimated by Vichy at 140,000 men—struck across the Atlantic and the Mediterranean to establish beachheads at many points.

Some observers here said this enterprise, synchronized with Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's knockout of Rommel's army, possibly would shorten the war by years.

Allied control of the entire north African coast line, reopening the Mediterranean for shipping supplies on the short route to Egypt, India and Soviet Russia via Iran, would be the equivalent of a gain of shipping.

Will Jolt Italy

Military commentators argued that a big Allied army in the Mediterranean would hasten Italy's exit from the war and put Germany under a three-cornered squeeze from hostile forces in Britain, Italy or Africa, and Russia.

This prospect evidently was recognized in Rome.

A commentator on the Fascist radio said "the horizon is black for Italy—we must expect attacks from any quarters."

Russians received word of the drive with jubilation. It was described as "the greatest of the war."

must expect attacks from any quarter." Hitler tacitly concedes Allied initiative, but says he will strike back.

London, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Vichy radio reported today that British and United States Naval forces entered the port of Algiers this morning following its capitulation and had begun landing American infantry and Royal air force personnel.

Moscow, Nov. 9 (AP)—United States operations in Africa drew a prominent display today in the government newspaper Pravda, the only paper publishing here today, and comment on the chilly street corners was approving. Pravda devoted about one-third of its foreign news section to the development. A map accompanied the account.

Chungking, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Chinese press today jubilantly hailed the landing of American troops in north Africa as the harbinger of still another front either in Italy or Greece and Ta Kung Pao said "the turning point of the war has been reached."

London, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Vichy radio said today that American forces had landed at new points of the north African coast, including Agadir and Mogador. Agadir and Mogador are south of Casablanca on the Atlantic coast at Casablanca, the Vichy radio reported, the French Naval forces have suffered serious losses in a violent naval battle. The port has been heavily bombarded, it was said. Oran has been practically encircled, it was reported.

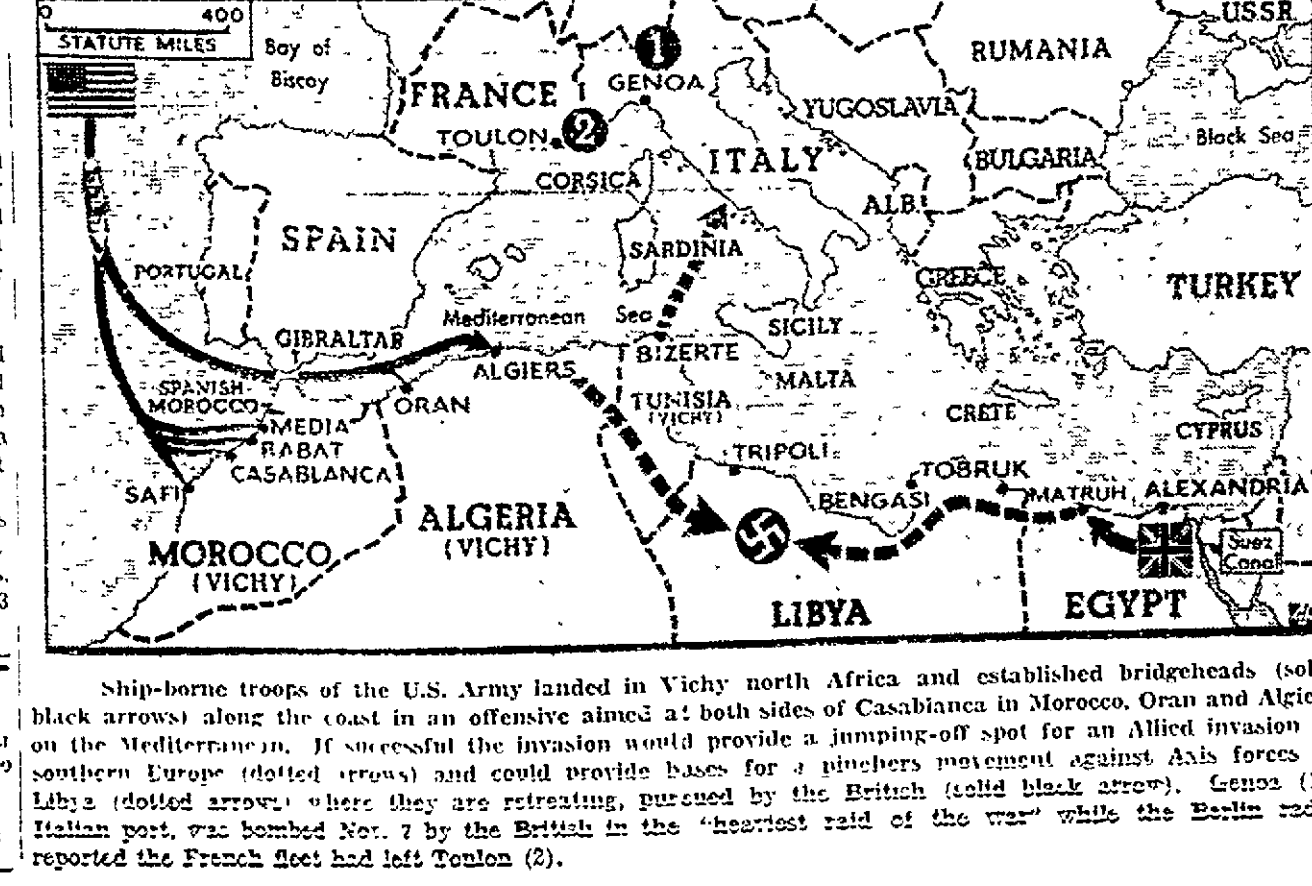

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull disclosed today that all Vichy French ships in American ports had been taken into protective custody.

Bern, Switzerland, Nov. 9 (AP)—Switzerland will be blacked out tonight beginning at 8 p. m. hereafter instead of at 10 p. m., it was announced today.

and American naval forces, commander by British Admiral Sir Andrew Broun Cunningham, shows that "the Allies are taking no risks of interference from the Italian or French fleets." London did not announce the actual number of units involved, but battleships and aircraft carriers as well as smaller units are known to be in action.

The latest information here was that the force France had at Toulon included three battleships, four heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, a seaplane carrier, 25 destroyers, 27 submarines and sloops.

Vichy Breaks With U. S.; News Dispatches Barred; Report Weygand In Africa

Bern, Switzerland, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Vichy government, having severed diplomatic relations with the United States in a week end of rapid-fire developments, mustered its limited resources today in an effort to fight off United States forces invading its north African possessions.

The decision to resist was taken by Marshal Petain, chief of state yesterday after he had called in his highest advisers to study reports of a situation which Vichy dispatches described as grave.

General Maxime Weygand, former pro-consul for North Africa, flew to Vichy from his Riviera retreat to confer with Petain, Pierre Laval and other French leaders yesterday and later was reported to have left by plane for Algiers.

Report Uprisings

Pledges of support were received from commanders of various colonial garrisons, but there were reports of Degaulist uprisings which threatened to complicate their efforts to resist.

Formal notification of the Vichy government's severance of relations with Washington was handed to S. Pinkney Tuck, United States charge d'affaires, by Laval shortly before 8 p. m. (3 p. m. EWT) yesterday.

(The Berlin radio reported that the American embassy at Vichy had been asked by the Petain government to remove the American flag flying over the building. French authorities in Algeria and Morocco were ordered to close American consulates and take American consular officials into custody, the broadcast said.)

The chief censor at Vichy immediately forbade American press representatives to send any further news dispatches abroad, but the correspondents were advised they could remain at liberty and continue to use their offices.

The Vichy radio summed up the internal situation in Morocco last night with the assertion that "the troops are well in hand and the population is calm."

Vichy itself was reported quiet and there were no indications of internal disorders within unoccupied France.

EISENHOWER IS WELL PLEASED WITH INVASION

By WES GALLAGHER
(U. S. Correspondent With A.E.F. in Africa)

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Nov. 10 (AP)—The driving force of the A.E.F., coordination exhibited by British and American Navies and formal emergence of the French General Henri Giraud as "an ally in the common cause" left Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower well satisfied with the North African campaign today.

Interview and communique built up the picture.

"The only thing I was disappointed in was the resistance of the French Navy, particularly the coast batteries," the supreme commander said last night in a press conference, his first since the landing barges scraped the shores of Algeria and Morocco early Sunday.

Giraud With Allies

Lolling at base in a field jacket, Eisenhower said French resistance expended effort "which might well be used against the common enemy—Germany."

A communique from his headquarters announced that General Giraud, 63-year-old veteran who has escaped from German prison camps both in the first and second World wars, would form a French North African army with U. S. arms and equipment to fight alongside the Allies "for the defeat of Germany and Italy and the liberation of France and her empire."

Giraud was reported to have reached Algeria from France.

"It can be expected," the communique said, "that his presence there will bring a cessation of the scattered resistance which is tragic between soldiers who have the same enemy."

(The relationship of Giraud and General Charles De Gaulle, head of the fighting French movement, was not brought out, but fighting Frenchmen in London said they welcomed him as one of them.)

Fled Koenigstein

(Giraud has long been regarded as one of the most able of France's military leaders and is an authority on North African affairs. At the time he escaped from German custody last April, De Gaulle attested to Giraud's standing by declaring that he would be willing to serve under him. Germany paid an indirect tribute also by offering a reward of 100,000 marks (about $40,000) for his recapture. It never was collected.)

(The white-mustached hero was captured in the battle of the bulge in northern France in 1940 and interned at Koenigstein fortress, near Dresden. He escaped down the fortress wall after weeks of patiently weaving a 65-foot rope from strands of thread mailed him in every package from his wife.)

Eisenhower's communique said that he had agreed to support Giraud in the North African theater and "is happy to welcome this distinguished French soldier as an ally in the common cause."

"He and I understand each other perfectly," the American said.

Eisenhower said a new American trench mortar had reduced a fort at Oran after its garrison decided to resist and he praised the weapon as an outstanding contribution to warfare.

Fort Surrenders

"A combat team brought up the mortars and gave the fort a pasting which would not have been possible with the mortars of the last war," he said, "and it surrendered almost at once, but not before there had been 15 enlisted men and one officer casualties."

"The prisoners apparently wanted to be captured and fight with the Allies, but they resented the casualties. We don't want to shoot a friend, but we cannot let them shoot us and not shoot back. War is a serious business and people get hurt."

The highest praise went to the British and American Navies operating under British Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham in the delivery of troops and supplies. The general said the Naval work was "marvelous."

Men and material were reported delivered with railroad schedule exactness, despite the fact that the size of the convoys gave the Naval commanders problems never before encountered.

Although he had had only cat naps for two days, Eisenhower joked with the four correspondents and staff officers present and appeared to be in the best of spirits.

The rites were in charge of a committee of Eastern Pennsylvania Synod headed by Dr. John O. Reagle, president. The Rev. Mr. Frantz's father, the Rev. John P. Frantz, pastor of a charge in Lancaster, participated in the installation service for his son.

DEATHS

Franklin T. Roberts

Stricken while at work in the fields on his farm, near Stony Brook, York county, about 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Franklin T. Roberts died shortly afterward at his home. Coroner L. U. Zech said death was caused by cerebral apoplexy. He was 55 years old.

A native of West Chester, Mr. Roberts had resided a number of years at East Berlin when he operated a blacksmith shop. He had made his home in this vicinity the past two years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Kathryn (Bechtel) Roberts; four children, George A. U. S. Army, Florence, South Carolina; Franklin T. Jr., U. S. Air Force, Lowry Field, Colorado, and Kathryn E. and Annette M., at home; two brothers, Alfred Roberts, Greensboro, South Carolina, and Milton Roberts, Pottsville; also three sisters, Mrs. Emma Detwiler, Royersford; Mrs. Maude Paxton, Wilmington, Delaware, and Mrs. Harry Bogart, Westwood, New Jersey.

Mrs. Caroline Gessford

Mrs. Caroline Gessford, who was well-known and a frequent visitor in Gettysburg at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maurice S. Weaver, Broadway, died last Thursday at her home in Washington, Pa., from a cerebral hemorrhage. Funeral services were held in Washington Saturday.

In addition to Mrs. Weaver, four daughters and a son survive.

Two Firms Join 10 Per Cent Club

The first two firms in Adams county this week to report their employees as contributing 10 per cent or more of their wages to the purchase of U. S. War bonds are the Snellenburg Manufacturing company at York Springs and the Bethlehem Steel company of near Hanover.

Leading the list in the county during the current drive to enroll all workers in the county in the "10 per cent club" both concerns reported their workers are giving more than 10 per cent for bonds. The Snellenburg firm is deducting 13.3 per cent for each pay period and the Bethlehem Steel company, 10.3 per cent.

CHURCH PLAQUE IS DEDICATED

A plaque bearing the names of 32 men and one woman of the Gettysburg Presbyterian congregation who served in the armed forces of the nation was dedicated at the Sunday morning service conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Seth C. Morrow.

As the name of each serviceman was read representatives of his family or a close friend stood. At the conclusion of the roll call the congregation bowed for a moment in silent prayer and then the pastor gave the prayer of dedication. The congregation sang "America" and a special offering was received to help meet the cost of the Christmas package being sent each soldier and sailor.

Martin Dolbeer, of Gettysburg college, was the guest soloist. He sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked."

The plaque, made of walnut wood, is the work of employees at the local furniture factories. The design is a copy of the hymn board which is on the front wall of the church on the opposite side of the pulpit. Close by the new plaque stands a gold-braided American flag.

CALL SALVAGE UNIT MEETING

A meeting of the Gettysburg Salvage committee will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the YWCA building when further plans for the collection of scrap will be made with special attention to be given to the problem of handling tin cans, the silk, nylon and rayon hose collection and the rags and household fats drive.

Meanwhile the scrap collection campaign reports continue to come in from various sections of the county with M. W. Wills, chairman of the Greenstone committee, claiming a county record of 61 tons and 120 pounds of scrap metal and rubber from that small community.

The collection of 52 tons of metal from the Greenstone Pipe and Nipple company plant alone helped boost the area's total. The Greenstone school gathered 4,900 pounds and the Fountaindale school, 4,220 pounds.

O. H. Benson, county salvage chairman, said today: "The per capita collection of scrap in the Greenstone area will be greater than for any of the 23 other salvage areas in the county. We congratulate Chairman Wills and his committee on their fine, patriotic work. The records made by the two schools there also deserve special commendation."

COUNTY DRIVER HELD IN DEATH

Pvt. Cecil Oakley, 23, U. S. Army, of Spooner, Wisconsin, was fatally injured at 10:50 a. m. Saturday when the motorcycle he was operating figured in a collision with a gravel truck at a road intersection in the vicinity of Chocolate Park, Cascades, Maryland.

Private Oakley died at 5 p. m. Saturday at an Army hospital.

His body was removed to Frederick with military escort and after military rites Monday evening the remains were shipped to his home at Spooner.

Operator of the gravel truck was Paul C. Lightner, 25, of Gettysburg R. 4, who was employed by Kenneth Dengler, of West Middle street, a sub-contractor.

Maryland state police of the Emmitsburg sub-station who investigated, placed a manslaughter charge against Lightner pending the outcome of a preliminary investigation today in Hagerstown by the state's attorney. Lightner is being held under $1,000 bond.

Private Oakley suffered a fractured skull in the collision and never regained consciousness. He was removed to the Army hospital after the crash and died almost six hours later.

Police said the truck driver attempted to make a left turn at the intersection and collided with the motorcycle operated by Private Oakley who was attempting a right turn.

President Arthur E. Hutchison presided at the meeting with Secretary Mahlon P. Hartzell, Directors Charles M. Sheely, Charles B. Dougherty, Ralph Z. Oyler, Charles B. Bender and Charles S. Black and Superintendent Keefeaver in attendance.

COURT HOUSE TO CLOSE

Court house offices will be closed Wednesday in observance of Armistice Day and the county commissioners, who meet regularly on Wednesday, announced today their meeting this week will be held on Friday. The commissioners will be coming to Gettysburg on another mission that day, the final count of the military ballots and the certification of the official tabulation of the county vote in the general election.

Order Recount In North York Votes

Convinced that something is wrong in the report of votes in the first district of north York, the York county commissioners, sitting as the county election board, will recount that district's ballots.

The decision was made Monday night when the York borough election board appeared to discuss the apparent discrepancy between the tally marks and sheet totals. No easy solution could be found to the apparent differences.

Although this situation is not yet cleared up, uncertain factors showed in another quarter as unofficial figures coming from York, Franklin and Adams counties whittled the lead of Chester H. Gross, republican candidate, over Harry L. Haines, democratic incumbent, to 42 votes.

This means—unless there is some major change in the north York district report—that the final decision on selecting the congressman will rest with the service men's vote.

So far in the three counties a total of 243 service men's votes has been received. Friday is the last day on which a ballot may be validly received for the election from service men.

NEW 'TEEN BILL

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—A joint Senate-House committee agreed today on a "teen-age draft bill" eliminating a Senate provision requiring a year's military training before 18 and 19 year old selectees could be sent into foreign combat.

PAST GRANDS HEAR MINISTER

The Rev. Elwood Bair, pastor of the Littlestown Methodist church, was the principal speaker at the 129th meeting of the Adams County Past 'Grands' association of the IOOF Monday evening at Littlestown with Sylva Lodge No. 613 of Littlestown as host.

The meeting was called to order by President George M. Neely, Fairfield. The program opened with the singing of "America." The Rev. Luther B. Hafer, Taneytown, gave the invocation. The address of welcome was delivered by J. Ray Rein-dollar and C. D. Bream of Bendersville, responded. The roll call of officers and lodges showed 62 persons in attendance.

Entertainment for the evening was directed by Stanley R. Staub with Mrs. Staub serving as pianist. The group sang "God Bless America." Miss Louise Staub gave several musical recitations and then the Rev. Mr. Bair spoke on the subject, "The Christian in a World of Chaos." The Rev. Mr. Hafer spoke briefly and there were remarks by the following: Edward W. Wright, York Springs lodge, and Harry Baumgardner, Taneytown. After the singing of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" the benediction was given by the Rev. George D. Laird, Felton, Maryland.

Georgia And Georgia Tech Top Nation's Gridders; Wisconsin Drops To Seventh

SATURDAY IS EXPECTED TO BRING UPSETS

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—It isn't likely that last Saturday's collection of upsets will be duplicated this weekend but that doesn't mean there won't be a lot of shifting in the next Associated Press poll to determine the 10 best college football teams.

Right now Georgia and Georgia Tech are at the top of the ladder of public opinion as expressed by 112 experts and it isn't likely that the Siskiwit, Davis, Trippl & Co. outfit will be much disturbed by Chattanooga.

But Georgia Tech, with its head coach ordered from the gridiron by his physician, runs smack into Alabama, in second place two short weeks ago and still in fifth position despite its defeat by Georgia.

Irish vs. Michigan

Another battle finds fourth place Notre Dame tangling with Michigan, in sixth place although it lost earlier in the season to both the Iowa Pre-flight Cadets and to Minnesota.

The complete first ten, with their first place votes in parentheses and their points figured on a basis of 10 for each first place vote:

| | |
|---------------------|-------|
| Georgia (85) | 1088 |
| Georgia Tech (14) | 988 |
| Boston College (10) | 819.5 |
| Notre Dame (1) | 772.5 |
| Alabama | 418.6 |
| Michigan | 349 |
| Wisconsin | 208.6 |
| Texas | 207.5 |
| Tulsa (1) | 205.5 |
| Ohio State (1) | 204.6 |

Ohio State vs. Buckeyes

Another contest which involves a pair of leaders is the orphaned Ohio State-Illinois struggle which will be put on in the huge stadium at Cleveland. The Buckeyes, leaders in the first three polls this season, have dropped to tenth place now, although one critic still deems them the best in the country.

Illinois, playing its first season under the guidance of Ray Elliott has been in and out of the select ten all season and presently is the No. 13 club.

Other games involving leaders on Saturday's program have Boston college, No. 2, entertaining Fordham; Wisconsin meeting Northwestern, Texas, opposing Texas Christian, a former member of the select 10, and Tulsa pounding against the Baylor line.

Although neither club is in the first grouping, a game involving two of the country's better teams finds Iowa, No. 12, invading Minnesota, No. 16.

The second ten: Tennessee, Iowa, Illinois, Washington State, William and Mary, Minnesota, Penn. University of California at Los Angeles, Hardin-Simmons, Williams.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Jackie Wilson, 148, Los Angeles, knocked out Bernie Miller, 142, New York (8).

Providence—Mike Belloise, 131½, New York, outpointed Ruby Garcia, 133, Puerto Rico (10).

Washington—Al Davis, 150, Brooklyn, knocked out Felix Morales, 144, Puerto Rico (1).

Philadelphia—Ellis Phillips, 130, Philadelphia, outpointed Petey Scalzo, 137, New York (10).

"BIRDIE" CREE BURIED

Sunbury, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—William F. "Birdie" Cree, former big league baseball player and cashier of the First National bank in Sunbury, who died during the week-end, was buried today. Cree, who retired from baseball in 1918 to enter banking, was an outfielder with the old New York Highlanders, predecessors to the Yankees of the American League.

HARVEY TAYLOR FETED

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, who led the successful fight to elect Adjutant General Edward Martin as governor, was feted last night by party members and friends. More than 1,000 persons staged a parade in his honor.

TWO U-BOATS SUNK

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Admiralty announced Monday that two U-boats were sunk and several others were probably damaged in a battle with a convoy in the north Atlantic recently, which lasted five days and nights.

More than fifty "underground" newspapers are printed and secretly circulated in Belgium.

Trappers Urged To Preserve Fats

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—The 1942 trapping season opened today with the Pennsylvania Game commission assuring trappers of good prospects and high fur prices.

The commission also reminded the trappers, fur dealers and rendering plants to save fats of animals for use in manufacture of munitions.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—This (if read) probably will draw rebuttals from at least 47 places, but we figure it will be just too bad for other states if those Ohio grid coaches carry out their threat to route all their good players to Ohio State.

As if the Buckeyes weren't already good enough, just think what they'd be if you added, say, Frankie Sinkwich and his catcher, George Foshner, now at Georgia; Eddie Prokop from Cleveland and Georgia Tech; Hills Mame and Jack Martin of Navy; Rochester's Jimmy Secrest, leading scorer in the east, and those Colgate freshmen from Columbus, Jack Clifford and Walt McGuade, who were two good reasons why Columbia lost that "basketball" game Saturday. . . . Anyway, you no longer can say the way to get a football team is to head for the Pennsylvania coal mines.

COURTING FAME

A letter from J. W. Hutton, athletic director at Hamilton university, St. Paul, Minn., extols Hamilton's basketball record and asks "what do you need to get on the cards at such places as Madison Square Garden or the Chicago stadium?" . . . Ned Irish's answer is "get a better record than Hamilton's." . . . That may sound rough, but after all, Ned has to pick teams that will fill the Garden, and they don't do that unless they play the "name" clubs. . . . P. S.: Hutton would like to book a good eastern game for his boys before they put on Uncle Sam's uniforms. . . . With something of the same idea in mind, the Manhattan Beach Coast Guard outfit is in the market for a post-season football game that will give a real good team a chance to show its stuff.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune: "Well make a small wager that Dewey (Snorter) Luster of Oklahoma is the envy of more than one college coach. . . . If Luster has any intricate football problems, he doesn't have to go off his campus to get expert advice from the nation's No. 1 football coach. . . . That is, if Lieut. Comm. George Halas of Naval Aviation has any time for football problems."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Carl Liscombe of the Detroit Red Wings works the regular non-to-six shift as a tool and die maker and plays hockey as a sideline. . . . Since he was inducted into the Army, evil eye Finkle claims he has discarded his famous "slobodka stare" for the "Hitler hex." . . . Gloria Callen, the swimmer, is a freshman at Barnard college, which may explain why the Columbia footballers occasionally miss one of Paul Gornall's passes.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Coach Charley Bachman of Michigan state is perfectly satisfied when Fullback Ed Ripmaster lives up to his name by ripping up the opposition, but he shudders to think about a freshman tackle who'll be coming up to the varsity next year. . . . The kid is George Killmaster. . . . Maybe Charley had better quit being a master mind.

SERVICE DEPT.

Fred Apostoli, who "came back" for six victories and a draw in seven fights since he joined the Navy, has been transferred to sea duty from the Norfolk training station. . . . "The Navy has done a lot for me," explained Fred, "and I'm going out to try to do something for it."

Seven Undefeated Teams Seek Title

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—Seven undefeated, untied eleven in conference competition remain in the running for the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic league's Class AA football championship.

They are Aliquippa, New Castle, Altoona, Wilkinsburg, Clairton, Connellsville and Johnstown's defending champions.

Under the Gardner rating system which credits teams points based on the strength of opponents, Aliquippa and New Castle are favored. Aliquippa currently leads with 130 points and New Castle has one less.

Johnstown lists 125, Altoona 125, Wilkinsburg 119 2-7, Clairton 119 1-6 and Connellsville 119.

Class A leaders are Dormont and Hurst.

The pistachio nut contains over fifty per cent of oil.

MAY ABANDON GOLF TOURNEYS

Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association of America, reporting a lucrative 1942 season, today peered through rationing plants to save fats of animals for use in manufacture of munitions and found 1943 tournament golf tagged with a question mark instead of a dollar mark.

Their winter tour limited to the Miami, Fla., and Pinehurst, N. C., North-South Opens after cancellation of four California meets and the Augusta Masters in April, P.G.A. representatives were uncertain, as well as indefinite, of next year's plans.

Today's second session of the national meeting was to include election of officers and discussion of new business, which presumably meant the mapping of war-time promotion of sectional tournaments or matches involving four to eight players and scheduling exhibition tours for Red Cross benefit and the stimulation of War Bond sales.

Observing the $100,000 winter tour is a $10,000 affair, Fred J. Corcoran, P.G.A. tournament manager who soon will leave for overseas with a Red Cross service club, said "gasoline rationing is what really makes us because we couldn't guarantee appearance of our players at any set place and time."

Gettysburg college's football warriors have buckled down to prepare for their final two games of the season, with Ursinus at Collegeville on Saturday and the closing game with Dickinson here November 21. As a result of their fine showing against the heavily-favored Bucknell eleven on Saturday, the Bullets will be favorites to cop both games. Ursinus has had a comparatively poor season but on Saturday showed signs of improving play when it nosed out Drexel. This week's battle will be the final Eastern Pennsylvania conference game for the Bullets and a victory will assure them of second place with a chance to tie for the title in the event Muhlenberg loses to F. and M.

Last week's forecasts were far from satisfactory. Of 25 selections, 16 were correct, eight wrong and one tie. The record for the season is 109 right, 49 wrong and 11 ties.

Defeated in their first three games, the Gettysburg high football reserve team will play its final game of the season at Biglerville Thursday afternoon. Last Friday the Biglerville scrubs scored in the final minute to win a 7-0 victory on the local field.

Robert Noll, faculty manager at Biglerville high school, announces today that arrangements have been made to have the Biglerville eleven meet Camp Hill under the lights at Biglerville Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Originally the Cannons were scheduled to play in the afternoon. The coming game will mark the close of the Biglerville home season. On November 19 the season will be brought to a close with a game with Washington Township on the latter's field.

Punts And Passes

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Paul Gornall of Columbia couldn't beat Andy Kerr's Colgate gridders by completing 17 of 25 passes for 173 yards in the game here Saturday, but he tossed his way right into the annual East-West game at San Francisco.

After the game, Kerr, who heads the coaching staff for the eastern squad, extended the first invitation for the New Year's day charity game to Gornall and the Columbia star accepted.

Monmouth, Ill.—Monmouth college and Knox college meet in their 56th game Saturday and the winner will get a turkey.

They won't find much meat on it, however, for it is a bronze turkey trophy, emblematic of the many years when the game was a Thanksgiving day fixture.

Roby, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—The Roby high school football team has played five games without a coach—and it's unbeaten and untied.

Jesse Lee Beene, the coach, entered the Army. Supervisor was named, not to coach, but see that all went well.

It has. The boys select their own starting lineup, make their own plays and plan the game strategy.

The increase of births in the United States between 1930 and 1940, about nine million, was the smallest gain recorded since 1870.

Arms and legs flew around in a dizzy whirl when Chicago Bears' halfback Hugh Gallarneau (whose leg points skyward in center) caused this pileup during a two-yard run in the first quarter of the game with the Brooklyn Dodgers at Brooklyn. Players in the pileup include John Siegel (6), Ed Kolman (29) and Clyde Turner (66) of the Bears and Perry Schwartz (99) of the Dodgers. Bears won, 35 to 0.

3 U.S. BOMBERS MISSING FROM RAID ON FRANCE

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—British bombers making their first night attack on Germany since Oct. 15 last night attacked Hamburg and other targets in northwest Germany, the air ministry announced today.

Fifteen of the attacking aircraft are missing, it was announced.

"Cloud was widespread and crews reported severe icing but a considerable tonnage of bombs was dropped," the air ministry said.

The RAF in recent weeks has concentrated its night attacks on Italian centers, its last previous night raids having been on Genoa Nov. 6 and 7.

Last night's excursion followed up daylight raids on occupied France by the United States Army Air Forces and the RAF.

3 Bombers Missing

United States Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers fought their way through a savage attack by German fighter planes yesterday to score many hits on the Nazi U-boat base at St. Nazaire, occupied France, in the longest operational flight yet undertaken by American airmen in the European theater of war.

Three of the American bombers failed to return from the raid, but the success of the operation was evident in a joint U. S.-British communique which said that "many hits were observed on the target."

The American flight followed an attack by RAF Boston bombers on the docks at Le Havre. One returning RAF pilot said "one bomb appeared to hit a ship on the bows."

The attack on St. Nazaire was the first raid on this important U-boat base and shipbuilding center by American fliers and only the second daylight raid. The RAF has pounded the port 38 times, once during daylight in May, 1941.

LOCK HAVEN IS NEARING TITLE

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP)—Lock Haven virtually won the 1942 championship of the mythical State Teachers Football conference Saturday.

The Bald Eagles kept their unbeaten and untied record intact by stopping West Chester, 1941 titleholder, considered the chief threat to Lock Haven's championship hopes.

Lock Haven won 20 to 13, scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter and one in the last 15 minutes. The Rams got their touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters.

East Stroudsburg, unbeaten in three league starts, takes on West Chester this week in what promises to be another good game, but no matter who wins Lock Haven cannot be knocked out of first place, provided the Bald Eagles defeat Mansfield.

In other league games last week Indiana swamped Mansfield, 39-0. Clarion toppled Kutztown, 19-6, while Slippery Rock crushed Edinboro, 26-0.

Standings of the teams:

| Team | W | L | T | Pts | Opp |
|------------------|---|---|---|-----|-----|
| Lock Haven | 4 | 0 | 0 | 93 | 20 |
| East Stroudsburg | 3 | 0 | 0 | 38 | 6 |

LOCAL SCOUTS VISIT HERSHEY

Thirteen members of Boy Scout Troop 77 of Gettysburg and their scoutmaster, Jack Cessna, were week-end guests of Troop 65 of Hershey at the latter troop's cabin at Hershey.

The local boys went to Hershey Friday evening and were taken on a tour of the Hershey Community building. On Saturday they visited the State Motor police training school with George Stock, formerly of Gettysburg, as the guide. Other sight-seeing trips took the lads to the Hershey soap factory, the consolidated school, the zoo and museum, and through the Cloverdale industrial school unit. The scouts returned to Gettysburg Saturday evening.

Members of Troop 77 who made the trip were Sydney Poppay, Jr., Charles Reaver, Francis Everhart, Winfield Dubbs, Paul Heim, William Snyder, William Zeigler, Harold Ditzler, John Donmeyer, Keith Clapsaddle, Arthur Clapsaddle, William Straley and James Slaybaugh. The drivers of the two cars used to make the trip were Philip Ridinger and Edward Kerrigan.

Farmer Is Gored To Death By Bull

Titusville, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—A husky Guernsey bull broke its rope binding and fatally gored and trampled Theodore C. Dahn, 67, farmer of Bloomfield township when he tried to capture it.

The farmer's wife narrowly escaped death herself when she ran to help her husband. The infuriated animal turned upon her, but she jumped over a fence to safety.

Large numbers of Axis prisoners, chiefly Italians abandoned by their German allies, continued to pour into British detention camps in the desert.

EDNA M. OLIVER, ACTRESS, DIES

Hollywood, Nov. 10 (AP)—The long career of Edna May Oliver, the outspoken, crochety but lovable screen character, has ended.

The character actress and comedienne died yesterday on the 59th anniversary of her birth, surrounded by birthday messages from friends and fans in the earth's far corners.

She peacefully fell asleep last Virginia Hammond, her companion.

Miss Oliver knew that death from an intestinal disorder was not far away and asked Miss Hammond to arrange a simple funeral. Private services will be held at Forest Lawn Memorial park, Glendale, Thursday, 6 p.m., followed by cremation.

Portraying her stage and screen roles with skill and assurance, as in "Cimarron" which lifted her to stardom, Miss Oliver in private life was almost shy, shunning Hollywood parties and preferring the companionship of old friends, or the pleasures of her garden, playing the piano, singing or reading. In 1923 she married David Pratt, a New York broker, but they were divorced two years later.

She was born Edna May Nuttler in Boston and took the name Oliver from the Oliver Street Unitarian church there.

Perform Autopsy On Crippled Body

Waynesburg, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—An autopsy was performed today upon the body of the two-year-old crippled son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Morbit, which was found in a water reservoir near Carmichael.

Deputy Coroner Merrill Condit estimated the boy had been dead about three weeks when the body—wrapped in a gunny sack—was located late yesterday by Basil Smith, a farmer.

Condit said Mrs. Mary Morbit, 25, the mother, told him last night she had taken her son to the reservoir after she found him dead in bed in her home in Town Hill. She said she became "panic-stricken."

Morbit is 32 and a miner. He and his wife were held by Sheriff Walter Glennon pending an inquest.

Neighbors, who first identified the dead boy, said he had been sick and apparently paralyzed from the hips down for some time before he disappeared last month. The Morbits have four other children.

HIGH ELEVEN TO BATTLE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—An Armistice Day program featuring several important games marks Pennsylvania interscholastic football this week as conference competition nears its end and champions begin to emerge.

The Western conference title may be determined tomorrow when Tyrone and Ebensburg, currently tied for the lead, go into action. Tyrone's defending champions seek their tenth straight against a strong Hollidaysburg eleven while Ebensburg will attempt to make it seven in a row against Huntingdon.

Bethlehem, setting the Big Fifteen conference pace, may step closer to the crown by beating Shamokin later in the week. Bethlehem will be striving for its sixth conference conquest while Shamokin, early leader, will be after its third success.

Other Contests

Hazleton invades Pottsville and York goes to Williamsport in other highlight Big Fifteen contests.

Shenandoah and Lansford, stand-out contenders for the southern division crown in the Eastern conference, also face stiff tests. Shenandoah will try for its tenth triumph against Mt. Carmel Township while Lansford risks its unbeaten record against McAdoo.

Connellsville, Altoona and Johnstown, WPIAL contenders, will see action. Brownsville opposes Connellsville, Altoona meets Donora and Rankin invades Johnstown.

Two Ohio teams will provide intersectional interest on the Keystone state schedule. New Castle, another WPIAL leader, goes to Warren, O., to oppose Harding High while the famous Massillon, O., eleven invades Erie East.

BOY DIES FROM MALNUTRITION

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP)—The death of a nine-year-old boy from "extreme malnutrition" was investigated today by Coroner Herbert M. Goddard and the city health department.

The boy, Raymond Carl Pollock, was "as badly emaciated as anyone could be," according to the physician's report.

Goddard said he died Sunday in the home of Mrs. Francis Graf, to which he had been assigned through municipal court. Two other children boarding there are in a hospital suffering from dysentery and grippe, the health department said.

Penitentiary Is Working 2 Shifts

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia is operating two shifts of prison labor to meet heavy demands for manufacture of hosiery and underwear.

F. Herbert Cooper, head of the prison labor division of the Department of Welfare, in reporting the increased orders, also said that during October 1,200 prisoners in the state's penal institutions were given employment.

Georgia And Georgia Tech Top Nation's Gridders; Wisconsin Drops To Seventh

SATURDAY IS EXPECTED TO BRING UPSETS

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—It isn't likely that last Saturday's collection of upsets will be duplicated this week-end but that doesn't mean there won't be a lot of shifting in the next Associated Press poll to determine the 10 best collegiate football teams.

Right now Georgia and Georgia Tech are at the top of the ladder of public opinion as expressed by 112 experts and it isn't likely that the Siskiwit, Davis, Trippi & Co. outfit will be much disturbed by Chattanooga.

But Georgia Tech, with its head coach ordered from the gridiron by its physician, runs smack into Alabama, in second place two short weeks ago and still in fifth position despite its defeat by Georgia.

Irish Vs. Michigan
Another battle finds fourth place Notre Dame tangling with Michigan, in sixth place although it lost earlier in the season to both the Iowa Pre-flight Cadets and to Minnesota.

The complete first ten, with their first place votes in parentheses and their points figured on a basis of 10 for each first place vote:

| | |
|---------------------|-------|
| Georgia (85) | 1088 |
| Georgia Tech (14) | 988 |
| Boston College (10) | 819.5 |
| Notre Dame (1) | 772.5 |
| Alabama | 418.6 |
| Michigan | 349 |
| Wisconsin | 208.6 |
| Texas | 207.6 |
| Tulsa (1) | 205.5 |
| Ohio State (1) | 204.6 |

Ohio State Vs. Buckeyes
Another contest which involves a pair of leaders is the orphaned Ohio State-Illinois struggle which will be put on in the huge stadium at Cleveland. The Buckeyes, leaders in the first three polls this season, have dropped to tenth place now, although one critic still deems them the best in the country.

Illinois, playing its first season under the guidance of Ray Eliot has been in and out of the select ten all season and presently is the No. 13 club.

Other games involving leaders on Saturday's program have Boston College, No. 2, entertaining Fordham; Wisconsin meeting Northwestern; Texas opposing Texas Christian, a former member of the select 10, and Tulsa pounding against the Baylor line.

Although neither club is in the first grouping, a game involving two of the country's better teams finds Iowa, No. 12, invading Minnesota, No. 16.

The second ten: Tennessee, Iowa, Illinois, Washington State, William and Mary, Minnesota, Penn, University of California at Los Angeles, Hardin-Simmons, Williams.

Chicago—Quentin "Baby" Brees, 138, Milwaukee, Wis., knocked out Joe DuPont, 137½, Chicago (3).

Baltimore—Lou Brooks, 184, Wilmington, Del., outpointed Tony Musto, 196½, Chicago (12).

Holyoke, Mass.—Joey Peralta, 135, Tamaqua, Pa., outpointed Able Kauffman, 139, Philadelphia (10).

Providence—Mike Belloise, 131½, New York, outpointed Ruby Garcia, 133, Puerto Rico, (10).

Washington—Al Davis, 150, Brooklyn, knocked out Felix Morales, 144, Puerto Rico (1).

Philadelphia—Ellis Phillips, 130, Philadelphia, outpointed Pete Scalzo, 137, New York (10).

"BIRDIE" CREE BURIED
Sunbury, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—William F. "Birdie" Cree, former big league baseball player and cashier of the First National bank in Sunbury, who died during the week-end, was buried today. Cree, who retired from baseball in 1918 to enter banking, was an outfielder with the old New York Highlanders, predecessors to the Yankees of the American league.

HARVEY TAYLOR FETED
Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, who led the successful fight to elect Adjutant General Edward Martin as governor, was feted last night by party members and friends. More than 1,000 persons staged a parade in his honor.

TWO U-BOATS SUNK

More than fifty "underground" newspapers are printed and secretly circulated in Belgium.

Trappers Urged To Preserve Fats

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—The 1942 trapping season opened today with the Pennsylvania Game commission assuring trappers of good prospects and high fur prices.

The commission also reminded the trappers, fur dealers and rendering plants to save fats of animals for use in manufacture of munitions.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—This (if read) probably will draw rebuttals from at least 47 places, but we figure it will be just too bad for other states if those Ohio grid coaches carry out their threat to route all their good players to Ohio State.

As if the Buckeyes weren't already good enough, just think what they'd be if you added, say, Frankie Sinkwich and his catcher, George Poschner, now at Georgia; Eddie Prokop from Cleveland and Georgia Tech; Hills Mune and Jack Martin of Navy; Rochester's Jimmy Seerest, leading scorer in the east, and those Colgate freshmen from Columbus, Jack Clifford and Walt McGuire, who were two good reasons why Columbia lost that "basketball" game Saturday. . . . Anyway, you no longer can say the way to get a football team is to head for the Pennsylvania coal mines.

COURTING FAME

A letter from J. W. Hutton, athletic director at Hamline university, St. Paul, Minn., extols Hamline's basketball record and asks "what do you need to get on the cards at such places as Madison Square Garden or the Chicago stadium?" . . . Ned Irish's answer is "get a better record than Hamline's." . . . That may sound rough, but after all, Ned has to pick teams that will fill the Garden, and they don't do that unless they play the "name" clubs. . . . P. S.: Hutton would like to book a good eastern game for his boys before they put on Uncle Sam's uniforms. . . . With something of the same idea in mind, the Manhattan Beach Coast Guard outfit is in the market for a postseason football game that will give a real good team a chance to show its stuff.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune: "We'll make a small wager that Dewey (Shorter) Luster of Oklahoma is the envy of more than one college coach. . . . If Luster has any intricate football problems, he doesn't have to go off his campus to get expert advice from the nation's No. 1 football coach. . . . That is, if Lieut. Comm. George Halas of Naval Aviation has any time for football problems."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Carl Liscombe of the Detroit Red Wings works the regular noon-to-six shift as a tool and die maker and plays hockey as a sideline. . . . Since he was inducted into the Army, evil eye Finkle claims he has discarded his famous "slobodica stare" for the "Hitler hex." . . . Gloria Callen, the swimmer, is a freshman at Barnard college, which may explain why the Columbia footballers occasionally miss one of Paul Governall's passes.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Coach Charley Bachman of Michigan state is perfectly satisfied when Fullback Ed Rippmaster lives up to his name by ripping up the opposition, but he shruders to think about a freshman tackle who'll be coming up to the varsity next year. . . . The kid is George Killmaster. . . . Maybe Charley had better quit being a master mind.

SERVICE DEPT.

Fred Apostoli, who "came back" for six victories and a draw in seven fights since he joined the Navy, has been transferred to sea duty from the Norfolk training station. . . . "The Navy has done a lot for me," explained Fred, "and I'm going out to try to do something for it."

Seven Undeclared Teams Seek Title

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—Seven undeclared, untied eleven in conference competition remain in the running for the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic league's Class AA football championship.

Under the Gardner rating system which credits teams points based on the strength of opponents, Allegheny and New Castle are favored. Allegheny currently leads with 130 points and New Castle has one less. Johnstown lists 125, Altoona 125, Wilkesburg 119 2-7, Clairton 119 1-6 and Connellsville 119.

Class A leaders are Dormont and Hurst.

The pistachio nut contains over fifty per cent of oil.

MAY ABANDON GOLF TOURNEYS

Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association of America, reporting a lucrative 1942 season, today peered through transportation and gasoline rationing difficulties and found 1943 tournament golf tagged with a question mark instead of a dollar mark.

Their winter tour limited to the Miami, Fla., and Pinehurst, N. C., North-South Opens after cancellation of four California meets and the Augusta Masters in April, P.G.A. representatives were uncertain, as well as indefinite, of next year's plans.

Today's second session of the national meeting was to include election of officers and discussion of new business, which presumably meant the mapping of war-time promotion of sectional tournaments or matches involving four to eight players and scheduling exhibition tours for Red Cross benefit and the stimulation of War Bond sales.

Observing the $100,000 winter tour now is a $10,000 affair, Fred J. Corcoran, P.G.A. tournament manager who soon will leave for overseas with a Red Cross service club, said "gasoline rationing is what really hurt us because we couldn't guarantee appearance of our players at any set place and time."

LOOKING AROUND

By DON BREEM Sports Editor

Gettysburg college's football warriors have buckled down to prepare for their final two games of the season, with Ursinus at Collegeville on Saturday and the closing game with Dickinson here November 21. As a result of their fine showing against the heavily-favored Bucknell eleven on Saturday, the Bullets will be favorites to cop both games. Ursinus has had a comparatively poor season but on Saturday showed signs of improving play when it nosed out Drexel. This week's battle will be the final Eastern Pennsylvania conference game for the Bullets and a victory will assure them of second place with a chance to tie for the title in the event Muhlenberg loses to F and M.

Last week's forecasts were far from satisfactory. Of 25 selections, 16 were correct, eight wrong and one tie. The record for the season is 109 right, 49 wrong and 11 ties.

Defeated in their first three games, the Gettysburg high football reserve team will play its final game of the season at Biglerville Thursday afternoon. Last Friday the Biglerville scrubs scored in the final minute to win a 7-0 victory on the local field.

Robert Noll, faculty manager at Biglerville high school, announces today that arrangements have been made to have the Biglerville eleven meet Camp Hill under the lights at Biglerville Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Originally the Cannons were scheduled to play in the afternoon. The coming game will mark the close of the Biglerville home season. On November 19 the season will be brought to a close with a game with Washington Township on the latter's field.

Punts And Passes

(By The Associated Press)
New York—Paul Governall of Columbia couldn't beat Andy Kerr's Colgate gridgers by completing 17 of 25 passes for 173 yards in the game here Saturday, but he tossed his way right into the annual East-West game at San Francisco.

After the game, Kerr, who heads the coaching staff for the eastern squad, extended the first invitation for the New Year's day charity game to Governall and the Columbia star accepted.

Monmouth, Ill.—Monmouth college and Knox college meet in their 56th game Saturday and the winner will get a turkey.

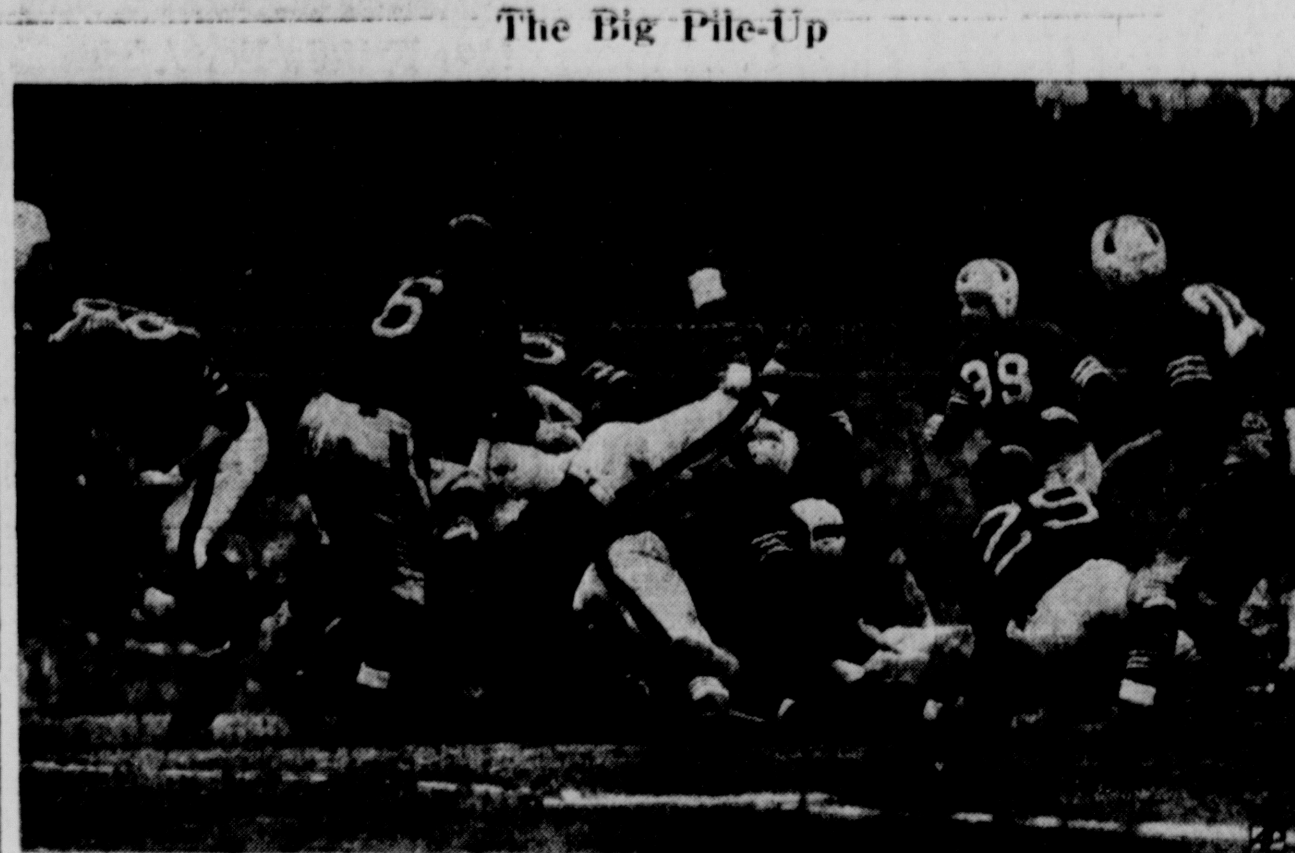

They won't find much meat on it, however, for it is a bronze turkey trophy, emblematic of the many years when the game was a Thanksgiving day fixture.

Roby, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—The Roby high school football team has played five games without a coach—and it's unbeaten and untied.

Jesse Lee Beene, the coach, entered the Army. Supervisor was named, not to coach, but see that all went well.

It has. The boys select their own starting lineup, make their own plays and plan the game strategy.

The increase of births in the United States between 1930 and 1940, about nine million, was the smallest gain recorded since 1870.

Arms and legs flew around in a dizzy whirl when Chicago Bears' halfback Hugh Gallarneau (whose leg points skyward in center) caused this pileup during a two-yard run in the first quarter of the game with the Brooklyn Dodgers at Brooklyn. Players in the pileup include John Siegel (6), Ed Kolman (29) and Clyde Turner (66) of the Bears and Perry Schwartz (99) of the Dodgers. Bears won, 35 to 0.

3 U.S. BOMBERS MISSING FROM RAID ON FRANCE

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—British bombers making their first night attack on Germany since Oct. 15 last night attacked Hamburg and other targets in northwest Germany, the air ministry announced today.

Fifteen of the attacking aircraft are missing, it was announced.

"Cloud was widespread and crews reported severe icing but a considerable tonnage of bombs was dropped," the air ministry said.

The RAF in recent weeks has concentrated its night attacks on Italian centers, its last previous night raids having been on Genoa Nov. 6 and 7.

Last night's excursion followed up daylight raids on occupied France by the United States Army Air Forces and the RAF.

3 Bombers Missing
United States Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers fought their way through a savage attack by German fighter planes yesterday to score many hits on the Nazi U-boat base at St. Nazaire, occupied France.

In the longest operational flight yet undertaken by American airmen in the European theater of war.

Three of the American bombers failed to return from the raid, but the success of the operation was evident in a joint U. S.-British communiqué which said that "many hits were observed on the target."

The American flight followed an attack by RAF Boston bombers on the docks at Le Havre. One returning RAF pilot said "one bomb appeared to hit a ship on the bows."

The attack on St. Nazaire was the first raid on this important U-boat base and shipbuilding center by American fliers and only the second daylight raid. The RAF has pounded the port 38 times, once during daylight in May, 1941.

LOCK HAVEN IS NEARING TITLE

By TED MEIER
Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP)—Lock Haven virtually won the 1942 championship of the mythical State Teachers Football conference Saturday.

The Bald Eagles kept their unbeaten and untied record intact by stopping West Chester, 1941 titleholder, considered the chief threat to Lock Haven's championship hopes.

Lock Haven won 20 to 13, scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter and one in the last 15 minutes.

The Rams got their touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters.

East Stroudsburg, unbeaten in three league starts, takes on West Chester this week in what promises to be another good game, but no matter who wins Lock Haven cannot be knocked out of first place, provided the Bald Eagles defeat Mansfield.

In other league games last week Indiana swamped Mansfield, 39-0. Clarion toppled Kutztown, 19-6, while Slippery Rock crushed Edinboro, 26-0.

Standings of the teams:

| | W | L | T | Pts | Opp |
|------------------|---|---|---|-----|-----|
| Lock Haven | 4 | 0 | 0 | 93 | 20 |
| East Stroudsburg | 3 | 0 | 0 | 38 | 6 |

LOCAL SCOUTS VISIT HERSHEY

Thirteen members of Boy Scout Troop 77 of Gettysburg and their scoutmaster, Jack Cessna, were week-end guests of Troop 65 of Hershey at the latter troop's cabin at Hershey.

The local boys went to Hershey Friday evening and were taken on a tour of the Hershey Community building. On Saturday they visited the State Motor police training school with George Stock, formerly of Gettysburg, as the guide. Other sight-seeing trips took the lads to the Hershey soap factory, the consolidated school, the zoo and museum and through the Cloverdale industrial school unit. The scouts returned to Gettysburg Saturday evening.

Members of Troop 77 who made the trip were Sydney Poppay, Jr., Charles Reaver, Francis Everhart, Winfield Dubbs, Paul Heim, William Snyder, William Zeigler, Harold Ditzler, John Donmoyer, Keith, Clapsaddle, Arthur Clapsaddle, William Straley and James Slaybaugh.

The drivers of the two cars used to make the trip were Philip Ridinger and Edward Kerrigan.

Large numbers of Axis prisoners, chiefly Italians abandoned by their German allies, continued to pour into British detention camps in the desert.

EDNA M. OLIVER, ACTRESS, DIES

Hollywood, Nov. 10 (AP)—The long career of Edna May Oliver, the outspoken, crochety but loveable screen character, has ended.

The character actress and comedienne died yesterday on the 59th anniversary of her birth, surrounded by birthday messages from friends and fans in the earth's far corners.

She peacefully fell asleep said Virginia Hammond, her companion.

Miss Oliver knew that death from an intestinal disorder was not far away and asked Miss Hammond to arrange a simple funeral. Private services will be held at Forest Lawn Memorial park, Glendale, Thursday, followed by cremation.

Portraying her stage and screen roles with skill and assurance, as in "Cimarron" which lifted her to stardom, Miss Oliver in private life was almost shy, shunning Hollywood parties and preferring the companionship of old friends, or the pleasures of her garden, playing the piano, singing or reading. In 1923 she married David Pratt, a New York broker, but they were divorced two years later.

She was born Edna May Nutter in Boston and took the name Oliver from the Oliver Street Humanitarian church there.

Perform Autopsy On Crippled Body
Waynesburg, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—An autopsy was performed today upon the body of the two-year-old crippled son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Morbit, which was found in a water reservoir near Carmichael.

Deputy Coroner Merrill Condit estimated the boy had been dead about three weeks when the body—wrapped in a gunny sack—was located last yesterday by Basil Smith, a farmer.

Condit said Mrs. Mary Morbit, 25, the mother, told him last night she had taken her son to the reservoir after she found him dead in bed in her home in Town Hill. She said she became "panic-stricken."

Morbit is 32 and a miner. He and his wife were held by Sheriff Walter Glennon pending an inquest.

Neighbors, who first identified the dead boy, said he had been sick and apparently paralyzed from the hips down for some time before he disappeared last month. The Morbits have four other children.

Farmer Is Gored To Death By Bull

Titusville, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—A husky Guernsey bull broke its rope binding and fatally gored and trampled Theodore C. Dahn, 67, farmer of Bloomfield township when he tried to capture it.

The farmer's wife narrowly escaped death herself when she ran to help her husband. The infuriated animal turned upon her, but she jumped over a fence to safety.

HIGH ELEVEN TO BATTLE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—An Armistice Day program featuring several important games marks Pennsylvania interscholastic football this week as conference competition nears its end and championships begin to emerge.

The Western conference title may be determined tomorrow when Tyrone and Ebensburg, currently tied for the lead, go into action. Tyrone's defending champions seek their tenth straight against a strong Hollidaysburg eleven while Ebensburg will attempt to make it seven in a row against Huntingdon.

Bethlehem, setting the Big Fifteen conference pace, may step closer to the crown by beating Shamokin later in the week. Bethlehem will be striving for its third conference conquest while Shamokin, early leader, will be after its third success.

EISENHOWER IS WELL PLEASED WITH INVASION

By WES GALLAGHER
(U. S. Correspondent With A.E.F. in Africa)

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Nov. 10 (AP)—The driving force of the A.E.F. coordination exhibited by British and American Navies and formal emergence of the French General Henri Giraud as "an ally in the common cause" left Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower well satisfied with the North African campaign today.

Interview and communique built up the picture.

"The only thing I was disappointed in was the resistance of the French Navy, particularly the coast batteries," the supreme commander said last night in a press conference, his first since the landing barges scraped the shores of Algeria and Morocco early Sunday.

Giraud With Allies

Lolling at base in a field jacket, Eisenhower said French resistance expended effort "which might well be used against the common enemy—Germany."

A communique from his headquarters announced that General Giraud, 63-year-old veteran who has escaped from German prison camps both in the first and second World wars, would form a French North African army with U. S. arms and equipment to fight alongside the Allies "for the defeat of Germany and Italy and the liberation of France and her empire."

Giraud was reported to have reached Algeria from France.

"It can be expected," the communique said, "that his presence there will bring a cessation of the scattered resistance which is tragic between soldiers who have the same enemy."

(The relationship of Giraud and General Charles De Gaulle, head of the fighting French movement, was not brought out, but fighting Frenchmen in London said they welcomed him as one of them.)

Fled Koenigsstein

(Giraud has long been regarded as one of the most able of France's military leaders and is an authority on North African affairs. At the time he escaped from German custody last April, De Gaulle attested to Giraud's standing by declaring that he would be willing to serve under him. Germany paid an indirect tribute also by offering a reward of 100,000 marks (about $10,000) for his recapture. It never was collected.)

(The white-mustached hero was captured in the battle of the bulge in northern France in 1940 and interned at Koenigsstein fortress, near Dresden. He escaped down the fortress wall after weeks of patiently weaving a 65-foot rope from strands of thread mailed him in every package from his wife.)

Eisenhower's communique said that he had agreed to support Giraud in the North African theater and "is happy to welcome this distinguished French soldier as an ally in the common cause."

"He and I understand each other perfectly," the American said.

Eisenhower said a new American trench mortar had reduced a fort at Oran after its garrison decided to resist and he praised the weapon as an outstanding contribution to warfare.

Fort Surrenders

"A combat team brought up the mortars and gave the fort a pasting which would not have been possible with the mortars of the last war," he said, "and it surrendered almost at once, but not before there had been 15 enlisted men and one officer casualties."

"The prisoners apparently wanted to be captured and fight with the Allies, but they resented the casualties. We don't want to shoot a friend, but we cannot let them shoot us and not shoot back. War is a serious business and people get hurt."

The highest praise went to the British and American Navies operating under British Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham in the delivery of troops and supplies. The general said the Naval work was "marvelous."

Men and material were reported delivered with railroad schedule exactness, despite the fact that the size of the convoys gave the Naval commanders problems never before encountered.

Although he had for only one nap for two days, Eisenhower joked with the four correspondents and staff officers present and appeared to be in the best of spirits.

CHURCH PLAQUE IS DEDICATED

A plaque bearing the names of 32 men and one woman of the Gettysburg Presbyterian congregation who are serving in the armed forces of the nation was dedicated at the Sunday morning service conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Seth C. Morrow.

As the name of each serviceman was read representatives of his family or a close friend stood at the conclusion of the roll call the congregation bowed for a moment in silent prayer and then the pastor gave the prayer of dedication. The congregation sang "America" and a special offering was received to help meet the cost of the Christmas package being sent each soldier and sailor.

Martin Dolbeer, of Gettysburg college, was the guest soloist. He sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked."

The plaque, made of walnut wood, is the work of employees at the local furniture factories. The design is a copy of the hymn board which is on the front wall of the church on the opposite side of the pulpit. Close by the new plaque stands a gold-braided American flag.

Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools, announces that beginning Wednesday morning the grade schools will open at 9:15 in the morning instead of at 9 o'clock. The closing hour will be 4:15 instead of 3:30. The high school will open at 9:15 instead of 8:30 and close at 4:30 instead of 3:30. Both schools have been running on a short schedule.

Prof. Stock also announced that the school will close Wednesday evening, November 25, for the Thanksgiving recess and will open again the following Monday. The Christmas vacation will be short this year, the closing time being Wednesday evening, December 23, and the pupils will return to their studies Wednesday morning, December 30.

John G. Taylor spent the week-end in Mechanicsburg with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred House, and their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shingley and son, Sterling, visited Miss Louise Shingley at the Shippensburg Teachers' college, Sunday.

Mrs. George Boyer is spending some time in Hershey as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter Dr. and Mrs. Howard Stauffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Taylor were business visitors in Hanover, Monday.

Mrs. Edwin Bushey, who recently suffered severe injuries to her foot and ankle in a fall, is reported to be somewhat improved.

CALL SALVAGE UNIT MEETING

A meeting of the Gettysburg Salvage committee will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the YWCA building when further plans for the collection of scrap will be made with special attention to be given to the problem of handling tin cans, the silk, nylon and rayon hose collection and the rags and household fats drive.

Meanwhile the scrap collection campaign reports continue to come in from various sections of the county with M. W. Wills, chairman of the Greenstone committee, claiming a county record of 61 tons and 120 pounds of scrap metal and rubber from that small community.

The collection of 52 tons of metal from the Greenstone Pipe and Nipple company plant alone helped boost the area's total. The Greenstone school gathered 4,900 pounds and the Fountaindale school, 4,220 pounds.

O. H. Benson, county salvage chairman, said today: "The per capita collection of scrap in the Greenstone area will be greater than for any of the 23 other salvage areas in the county. We congratulate Chairman Wills and his committee on their fine, patriotic work. The records made by the two schools there also deserve special commendation."

COUNTY DRIVER HELD IN DEATH

Pvt. Cecil Oakley, 23, U. S. Army, of Spooner, Wisconsin, was fatally injured at 10:50 a. m. Saturday when the motorcycle he was operating figured in a collision with a gravel truck at a road intersection in the vicinity of Chocolate Park, Cascades, Maryland.

Private Oakley died at 5 p. m. Saturday at an Army hospital. His body was removed to Frederick with military escort and after military rites Monday evening the remains were shipped to his home at Spooner.

Operator of the gravel truck was Paul C. Lightner, 25, of Gettysburg R. 4, who was employed by Kenneth Dengier, of West Middle street, a sub-contractor.

Maryland state police of the Emmitsburg sub-station who investigated, placed a manslaughter charge against Lightner pending the outcome of a preliminary investigation today in Hagerstown by the state's attorney. Lightner is being held under $1,000 bond.

Private Oakley suffered a fractured skull in the collision and never regained consciousness. He was removed to the Army hospital after the crash and died almost six hours later.

Police said the truck driver attempted to make a left turn at the intersection and collided with the motorcycle operated by Private Oakley who was attempting a right turn.

Order Recount In North York Votes

Convinced that something is wrong in the report of votes in the first district of North York, the York county commissioners, sitting as the county election board, will recount that district's ballots.

The decision was made Monday night when the York borough election board appeared to discuss the apparent discrepancy between the tally marks and sheet totals. No easy solution could be found to the apparent differences.

Although this situation is not yet cleared up, uncertain factors showed in another quarter as unofficial figures coming from York, Franklin and Adams counties whittled the lead of Chester H. Gross, republican candidate, over Harry L. Haines, democratic incumbent, to 42 votes.

This means—unless there is some major change in the north York district report—that the final decision on selecting the congressman will rest with the service men's vote. So far in the three counties a total of 243 service men's votes has been received. Friday is the last day on which a ballot may be validly received for the election from service men.

PAST GRANDS HEAR MINISTER

The Rev. Elwood Bair, pastor of the Littlestown Methodist church, was the principal speaker at the 129th meeting of the Adams County Past 'Grands' association of the IOOF Monday evening at Littlestown with Sylvana Lodge No. 613 of Littlestown as host.

The meeting was called to order by President George M. Neely, Fairfield. The program opened with the singing of "America." The Rev. Luther E. Hafer, Taneytown, gave the invocation. The address of welcome was delivered by J. Ray Rein-dollar and C. D. Broom of Bendersville, responded. The roll call of officers and lodges showed 62 persons in attendance.

Entertainment for the evening was directed by Stanley R. Staub with Mrs. Staub serving as pianist. The group sang "God Bless America." Miss Louise Staub gave several musical recitations and then the Rev. Mr. Bair spoke on the subject "The Christian in a World of Chaos." The Rev. Mr. Hafer spoke briefly and there were remarks by the following: Edward W. Wright, York Springs lodge, and Harry Baumgardner, Taneytown. After the singing of "Bless Be the Tie that Binds" the benediction was given by the Rev. George D. Laird, Felton, Maryland.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

MAN'S OBLIGATION

The wish to better life, at least. Makes man superior to the beast. The urge to fashion and improve. To break from instinct's rigid groove. And curb his passions if he can. Is the peculiar trait of man. All other creatures live and die. And never question how or why. Their only problem's food and drink; Of nothing further need they think.

But man, in God's own image made. Of many failures lives afraid. He must do more with reason's light Than merely serve his appetite; For him there is stricter law Than instinct's rule for tooth and claw; Man must be strong and gentle, too; Must learn his passions to subdue. And must in generous dealing, find They way to fame and peace of mind.

Once fed, the beasts untroubled sleep. But man has goals to gain and keep. And there is much of consequence Which he must think and feel and sense; And man has honors to deserve And also God above to serve. Though man has pleasures to enjoy He still has evils to destroy; Has knowledge here of good and bad; All gifts the beasts have never had.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

SO EMPTY

Emptiness is an inheritance of us all. I visited a famous man and sat down to his luncheon table with him alone. Before this his life companion had been with us. I felt that emptiness with him. Then he took me through the home and pointed out the many things in it that she had beautified. "Everything is so empty," he told me—and I could see from his look that his heart was empty.

When my beloved Mother, and after a brief time, when my Father was taken from the world, I felt an emptiness about me that I had never before known. And this emptiness returns with the departure from this life of every long loved friend.

Letter after letter comes to my desk telling of the emptiness of a Mother's heart over an only boy in some far away land in the service of his country—and from others of a heart emptier by far because of news that he will never return. God alone is able to put a light into such people's empty hearts.

There are other empty hearts in many a home where there is no break in the circle, however. Where the simplest and briefest of kindness, or just consideration, would change everything. Youth is often unintentionally thoughtless and forgetful, because of which many a Mother's, or Father's heart, is left empty and dark.

There is but one remedy for an empty heart, and that is to fill it with something of the sort that once filled it. When a bad habit is broken a good habit must be put in its place. Likewise, when sorrow comes we must endeavor to make someone else happy in order to bring a measure of happiness and comfort back. The bird with a broken pinion never soared as high again—but I have an idea that its song became sweeter.

The courage, sacrifice, and love of country that enables a hero to count no cost as against his gift to freedom, in turn creates heroism in an endless number who live to carry on.

This Mother, whose gift of the only son she had, gained comfort from his loss, through the knowledge that an entire country poured its love and sympathy into

U. S. Relations With French People Is Not Broken

VICHY TIE MAY BE "SEVERED" BY AMBASSADOR

By WADE WERNER

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—For the first time in more than a century France today was without formal diplomatic representation in the United States, but the people of that Axis-yoked country had President Roosevelt's assurance that "we have not broken relations with the French."

The President pointed out in a statement yesterday that there was nothing the United States could do about the Vichy government's announced severance of relations with this country.

"Nevertheless," he added, "no act of Hitler or of any of his puppets can sever relations between the American people and the people of France. We have not broken relations with the French. We never will."

Ambassador Is Free

Because there was nothing else to do about it, the State department yesterday formally completed the break announced Sunday by chief of government Pierre Laval. It sent the French ambassador his passports, thus officially ending the career of Gaston Henry-Haye as Vichy's emissary in Washington and terminating the functions of his embassy.

There was no talk of interning Henry-Haye and his staff, as German, Japanese and Italian diplomats were interned last December.

Washington acquaintances of Henry-Haye recalled that he was in this country for some time during the last war and seemed vividly to remember the war spirit of Franco-American comradeship everywhere apparent in those days. Some of these acquaintances saw, or thought they saw, indications that he would repudiate his Vichy connection and adhere to the Allied cause. Half a dozen members of the embassy staff already have taken this course in the past year.

Neither President Roosevelt nor Secretary of State Hull gave any indication that the break with Vichy would change the status of the Free French delegation here, presently headed by Adrien Tixier. Tixier himself told reporters such a question was something he could not properly discuss.

SEAPOWERS IS BIG STICK OF ALLIED DRIVE

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by Dewitt MacKenzie, war analyst, is written today by Glenn Babb. Mr. MacKenzie, now touring the war zones, is traveling.)

The big headlines are going to the landing parties of commandos and infantry, the tank fighters and airmen who are nailing down all North Africa, from the Atlantic to the Red sea, for the United Nations. But while the victories are being won on African deserts and beaches and in the skies we are reminded that none of this would have been possible without Allied command of the seas.

All the new weapons and new tactics that this war has evolved have not shaken the place of seapower as the foundation on which the United Nations are building victory. "If only there were a land bridge to Africa," moaned a Berlin radio commentator last week as he tried to explain away the disaster that had befallen Rommel in Egypt. But there is no land bridge to Egypt and none to Morocco and so Hitler, like Napoleon and the Kaiser, is confined to the solid limits of Europe while the armadas of his enemies make the seven seas foam as they dispose the great armies that are to choke him to death.

Seapower is dominant. Seapower has beaten all the aspirants for world dominion since civilization spread from its old world cradle. Its elements have changed since Mahan wrote, and the airplane and submarine are as essential as the surface ship, but its fundamental place has not altered.

General Eisenhower, who commands America's vast new African campaign, warmly acknowledges the role of the British and United States Navies in the undertaking. "Nothing short of marvelous," he says of the way the Navies handled this most ambitious and spectacular overseas expedition in military history. But the sea forces' contribution was no less vital to the Eighth Army's triumph in Egypt although spread over dreary years in time and the longest supply route ever maintained for a major military operation.

The United Nations have been nearest ultimate defeat in those areas where for the time being they have lost command of the seas, in the western Pacific, where Japan still is dominant, and the Mediterranean, where land-based air power has nullified the rule of the fighting ship. Eventually the productive capacity of American shipyards should take care of the former problem. The latter seems to be approaching early solution. When Oran and Bizerte are in Allied hands the German-Italian bases on Sicily and Pantelleria will lose much of their power to punish.

No Italian Enthusiasm It remains to be seen whether the Axis, confronted with the threat of being swept from the Mediterranean, will be pushed into challenging the British and American fleets on the surface.

By now the fate of the six Fascist divisions who followed Rommel into Egypt must be known widely throughout Italy and this knowledge will not increase the Fascist Navy's enthusiasm for fighting for the Hitlerian new order. The Italians also know by now that Admiral Cunningham, whose torpedo planes crippled their capital ship strength at Taranto and whose ships wrecked their cruiser strength at Cape Matapan, is flying his standard again in the Mediterranean, on guard against any Axis attempt to contest the shores of Algeria or Tunisia with Eisenhower's men. The Allies have good reason for confidence that the Mediterranean soon will be theirs to travel freely again.

Object To "High Command" Liaison

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Proposals for a joint House and Senate "high command" committee on the conduct of the war were confronted Monday with the prospect of stiff opposition from the democratic leadership.

An unofficial, but authoritative, source reported that the majority leadership would resist "and make it stick" any attempt on the part of the republicans to form a liaison committee between Congress and the administration's war agencies.

But, despite that opposition, a move for the formation of such a committee, originally advocated by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) to coordinate congressional action on war legislation, appeared to be gaining strength with the republican election resurgence.

FARMERS PLAN TO SLASH CROP HARVEST IN '43

Upper Darby, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—An "alarming tendency" among eastern farmers to reduce production next year was reported today by the Farm Security Administration, which attributed the trend to "the certainty of an even greater scarcity of farm labor."

J. H. Wood, regional FSA director, said a survey of farm owners in the Maine-through-Maryland region showed "a tide of despondency" and added that if production is curtailed "it will seriously jeopardize the war effort" and endanger public health.

"Just as 'food can win the war and write the peace,'" he said, "so can lack of it lose both."

Wood recommended the establishment of more migratory farm labor camps and the relocation of "vast numbers" of farm families from unproductive to productive lands to prevent a food shortage.

"We have proof that these problems can be solved," he said, citing the FSA's experience in relocations and labor housing in critical areas. "But we'll have to have funds and authority to do it—now. Farmers are planning 1943 production now. They won't take 'too little too late' for an answer."

Fourteen migratory camps in the east supplied farmers with between 225,000 and 250,000 man-days of labor during 1942—"enough to harvest a trainload of lend-lease commodities extending from Philadelphia to Washington," Wood said, and the demand for more camps, as shown in the survey, "is tremendous."

Many Farm Sales

There has been a "disturbing number" of farm sales and abandonments, as well as auctions of livestock and equipment, he added, "despite the fact that with transportation burdened as it is, eastern agriculture is of vital importance to our great cities and industries."

"We have been thinking in terms of feeding both our allies and, when we have beaten them, our enemies," he said. "But unless action is taken at once, we are going to have to think hard about feeding our allies and our armed forces abroad, worry about feeding ourselves—and to hell with our enemies."

Congresswoman To Care For Sons

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's first Congresswoman, Mrs. Patrick J. Boland, heads back to Washington and familiar scenes soon, but she won't let law-making interfere with the duties of motherhood.

The widow of the Democratic whip in the House, who died on the eve of the May primaries, says she will travel back and forth from her capital in order to supervise the care of her sons, Patrick, 10, and Eugene, 8, who will remain here.

Mrs. Boland was elected without Republican opposition last week to serve the remaining two months of her husband's term. She will be one of nine women members of Congress. She plans to leave for Washington as soon as the official election count is certified.

She says she favors the draft of 18 and 19-year-old boys and "I certainly hope it will pass."

"If the heads of the Navy and War departments decide that they need them, we shouldn't tie their hands. They're running the war and we don't know how it's going to go in a year or so. If they must take the young boys, it's better to take them in now and train them before they are sent to battle."

17 BRITONS DIE
IN MADAGASCAR

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed to the House of Commons today that the British lost only 17 killed and 45 wounded in the operations in southern Madagascar between September 10 and October 17.

Churchill was cheered loudly as he entered Commons. He said he would make a major statement on the situation in the Middle East "in the near future."

Churchill's remarks were made only in answer to questions.
The prime minister declined to discuss a question about the present arrangements for a unified strategy among the United Nations.

A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, announced in Commons that the number of enemy submarines sunk, damaged or captured had increased to 570.

In disclosing the increased damage to Hitler's U-boat fleet, Alexander said "the enemy quite failed to apprehend that we had sufficient shipping tonnage available to carry out the operations of the last two days"—the landing of a strong American expeditionary force in North Africa.

To Unveil Memorial
To Abraham Lincoln

Carl B. Shelley, district attorney of Dauphin county, will be the principal speaker for the dedication program to be held in connection with the unveiling of the memorial to President Abraham Lincoln on the site of the Hanover Branch Line railroad where Lincoln spoke from the rear platform of his coach when his train passed through Hanover enroute to Gettysburg Nov. 18, 1863.

Austin V. Lau, commander of Hanover Post No. 2506, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which is sponsoring the program announced that the exercises will be held the afternoon of Armistice Day at 2:30 o'clock at the freight office of the Western Maryland Railway company.

Howard Musselman, program chairman of the Rotary club. Rotarian
President Paul A. Kinsey presided.
William A. Beales, president of the Lions club, spoke briefly. The program opened with the singing of "America." The invocation was given by the Rev. Ralph E. Grech of the Rotary club. Singing was led by Dr. Frederick Tilberg of the Rotary club.

More than 100 persons attended.

THREE STOOGES
MEET IN ROME

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and Pierre Laval were reported meeting in Rome today and unofficial quarters in London believed the Fuehrer and his two satellites from Italy and Vichy France were considering some desperate blow to halt the British-American advances in North Africa.

The likeliest spot for the Italian fleet, Axis air forces and possibly the French fleet to strike appeared to be Tunisia through which President Roosevelt has said the American expeditionary force intends to advance to attack Marshal Rommel from behind.

The meeting of Hitler, the Italian
Duce and the Vichy chief of government in Rome was reported by Reuters, British news agency, in a dispatch "from the French frontier."

This report followed the statement from the Berlin radio yesterday that Laval had left Vichy for "an unannounced destination." The Berlin broadcast emphasized that he had not, as is usual, gone to Paris.

It was believed that the Italians, facing the fearsome prospect of allied control of the whole southern Mediterranean shore, would attempt some desperate counterstroke.

County Pastors Elect
Officers For Year

The Rev. Dobbs Ehlman, pastor of the Reformed church at New Oxford, was elected as the new president of the Adams County Ministerium at a re-organization meeting held this morning at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. He succeeds the Rev.
Lester M. Utz, formerly of York Springs and now serving a charge at Pine Grove, Pa.

The Rev. Harry S. Ecker, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, was chosen as vice president and the Rev. E. Philip Senft, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church at McSherrystown, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

WILSON GIVEN
$25,000 FOR SOCIAL TASTE

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP)—Wilson college for women at Chambersburg has accepted a $25,000 grant under a will whose terms stipulate that the annual income must be used for a course of lectures on "social good taste."

The will is that of Mrs. H. S.
Prenntiss Nichols, philanthropist and widow of a Philadelphia attorney.
She died last November.

She stipulated that the lectures be given at least once a month by "an authority on the subject" and that attendance of all Wilson students be compulsory.

"I know of no instruction more needed by college students in general," Mrs. Nichols wrote.

Had the college declined to meet the conditions, the money would have been given to the home for incurable in Philadelphia.

MURDER on the CampusBy JERRY BRONDFIELD

Chapter 19

It didn't take much to get up a nice, lazy gab-session at the Delta Sigma house, and Susan and four or five others were in one, sprawled around Doris Osborne's room, helping her take care of a package of cookies and fruit from home.

Doris rose from one elbow and examined an apple. "I heard a pip-ping hot rumor today and it's a honey. The Pi Gam' a few days ago—maybe a week—decided to offer Todd Malone as a senior class vice-presidential candidate at the Combine caucus next Monday night.
The way I hear it, he hasn't exactly agreed to it but if he does we're going to have a fight on our hands."

"Why?" Jane asked curiously, beating Susan to the punch.

"Simple," Doris gestured with the apple. "We've got to face facts.
We can't risk possible inclusion on the party slate of a candidate who may cause the defeat of the entire program."

"Our particular gamble is too great," Doris went on. "We're going to try to get a candidacy to the Student Court for Martha Vaughan, and if we make it, that means a good chance of landing the first woman justice in student court history."

The rumor was a new one to Susan but in a flash the situation, if true spread out in her mind. There was a cloud on her face and lightning in her eye as she turned on Doris.

"I've seen a lot of campus politics in the four years I've been here and I'm getting a little sick of it.
And I'm going to tell you a few things, especially since you're on the political committee."

Susan was all warmed up, now, and every eye in the room was riveted on her. Something was popping.

Laying Down The Law
"If the Pi Gam's submit Malone's name as a candidate I'll bet it's because they're figuring on undertaking something more important than a campus political battle. They won't be gambling a tinselled class office that won't mean a thing a couple of years from now. They'll be gambling something much bigger.
Don't make me draw you a picture.
I never was much good at melodrama, and besides, I'm not equal to it." She paused, out of breath.

"But Susan," Doris pleaded, "don't you see that—"

"Yes, I see, all right," Susan interrupted. "I can see that I'm going to have to hold every girl in this house personally accountable for any action they take in the step you suggest, because it won't be much fun living here with people who can't see a simple, moral course of action."

Jane whistled. "Nice going, Susie, and allow me to stick my cent and a half in. I know Martha Vaughan well enough to bet she won't have a thing to do with the student court business if it means sticky politics. And as I recall, we have some kind of gentlemen's agreement with the Pi Gam's to back their candidates at this year's Caucus."

"Miss Drake, did Humphries at any time mention to you that he was working on a so-called invention? You used to see him quite a bit, and we know he was—shall we say—quite interested in you. That's why he might have dropped some word to you about it."

"Invention?" Susan echoed won-deringly. "No, he never said anything about it, not the barest hint.
However, that doesn't preclude the possibility he was working on something. But why don't you ask Dr.
Coulter? He probably could tell you better than I could."

The telephone on Hinton's desk rang just then and he answered.
"Hello—yes, put him on..."
Hinton's eyebrows raised slightly.

HOLD AGED MAN
IN WIFE'S DEATH

Philipsburg, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—
Centre county Coroner Charles Sheckler today listed as murder and suicide the bludgeoning to death of Mrs. Kathryn Kadaish 67, and the serious injury of her 72-year-old husband on their farm near here.

Joseph Kadaish "admitted striking his wife on the head with an axe," he declared, "and there is no doubt he later attempted to take his own life."

State police found Mrs. Kadaish's body slumped over a milk stool in the Kadaish barn in Mulligan Hollow near Osceola Mills. The husband, a former miner, was discovered later sprawling across a bed in his home, his neck wounded.

District Attorney Musser Gettig of Centre county said Kadaish is being held under guard at the Philipsburg state hospital on a technical murder charge. Attendants give him an even chance to recover.

The only witness to the slaying,
Sheckler declared, was a 12-year-

Then he said, "Come right down here, Lake."

Hinton turned to Susan. I'm sorry you had to come down here for such a brief visit, but something important has just turned up that needs my attention."

"Perfectly all right," Susan told him, getting up. Hinton showed her to the door. Lake was hurrying as he opened it. He tipped his hat to Susan and walked in quickly when she stepped out.

THREE STOOGES MEET IN ROME

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and Pierre Laval were reported meeting in Rome today and unofficial quarters in London believed the Fuehrer and his two satellites from Italy and Vichy France were considering some desperate blow to halt the British-American advances in North Africa.

The likeliest spot for the Italian fleet, Axis air forces and possibly the French fleet to strike appeared to be Tunisia through which President Roosevelt has said the American expeditionary force intends to advance to attack Marshal Rommel from behind.

The meeting of Hitler, the Italian Duce and the Vichy chief of government in Rome was reported by Reuters, British news agency, in a dispatch "from the French frontier."

This report followed the statement from the Berlin radio yesterday that Laval had left Vichy for "an unannounced destination." The Berlin broadcast emphasized that he had not, as is usual, gone to Paris.

It was believed that the Italians, facing the fearsome prospect of allied control of the whole southern Mediterranean shore, would attempt some desperate counterstroke.

County Pastors Elect Officers For Year

The Rev. Dobbs Ehlman, pastor of the Reformed church in New Oxford, was elected as the new president of the Adams County Ministerium at a re-organization meeting held this morning at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. He succeeds the Rev. Lester M. Ute, formerly of York Springs and now serving a charge at Pine Grove, Pa.

The Rev. Harry S. Ecker, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, was chosen as vice president and the Rev. E. Philip Senft, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church at McSherrystown, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

WILSON GIVEN $25,000 FOR SOCIAL TASTE

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP)—Wilson college for women at Chambersburg has accepted a $25,000 bequest under a will whose terms stipulate that the annual income must be used for a course of lectures on "social good taste."

The will is that of Mrs. H. S. Prentiss Nichols, philanthropist and widow of a Philadelphia attorney. She died last November.

She stipulated that the lectures be given at least once a month by "an authority on the subject" and that attendance of all Wilson students be compulsory.

"I know of no instruction more needed by college students in general," Mrs. Nichols wrote.

Had the college declined to meet the conditions, the money would have been given to the home for incurable in Philadelphia.

17 BRITONS DIE IN MADAGASCAR

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed to the House of Commons today that the British lost only 17 killed and 43 wounded in the operations in southern Madagascar between September 10 and October 17.

Churchill was cheered loudly as he entered Commons. He said he would make a major statement on the situation in the Middle East "in the near future."

Churchill's remarks were made only in answer to questions. The prime minister declined to discuss a question about the present arrangements for a unified strategy among the United Nations.

A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, announced in Commons that the number of enemy submarines sunk, damaged or captured had increased to 570.

In disclosing the increased damage to Hitler's U-boat fleet, Alexander said "the enemy quite failed to apprehend that we had sufficient shipping tonnage available to carry out the operations of the last two days"—the landing of a strong American expeditionary force in North Africa.

To Unveil Memorial To Abraham Lincoln

Carl B. Shelley, district attorney of Dauphin county, will be the principal speaker for the dedication program to be held in connection with the unveiling of the memorial to President Abraham Lincoln on the site of the Hanover Branch Line railroad where Lincoln spoke from the rear platform of his coach when his train passed through Hanover enroute to Gettysburg Nov. 18, 1863.

Austin V. Lau, commander of Hanover Post No. 2506, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which is sponsoring the program announced that the exercises will be held the afternoon of Armistice Day at 2:30 o'clock at the freight office of the Western Maryland Railway company.

MURDER on the Campus

By JERRY BRONFIELD

Chapter 19

The D. A. Again

It didn't take much to get up a nice, lazy gab-session at the Delta Sigma house, and Susan and four or five others were in one, sprawled around Doris Osborne's room, helping her take care of a package of cookies and fruit from home.

Doris rose from one elbow and examined an apple. "I heard a pipping hot rumor today and it's a honey. The Pi Gam' a few days ago—maybe a week—decided to offer Todd Malone as a senior class vice-presidential candidate at the Combine caucus next Monday night. The way I hear it, he hasn't exactly agreed to it but if he does we're going to have a fight on our hands."

"Why?" Jane asked curiously, beating Susan to the punch.

"Simple," Doris gestured with the apple. "We've got to face facts. We can't risk possible inclusion on the party slate of a candidate who may cause the defeat of the entire program."

"Our particular gamble is too great," Doris went on. "We're going to try to get a candidacy to the Student Court for Martha Vaughan, and if we make it, that means a good chance of landing the first woman justice in student court history."

The rumor was a new one to Susan but in a flash the situation, if true spread out in her mind. There was a cloud on her face and lightning in her eye as she turned on Doris.

"I've seen a lot of campus politics in the four years I've been here and I'm getting a little sick of it. And I'm going to tell you a few things, especially since you're on the political committee."

Susan was all warmed up, now, and every eye in the room was riveted on her. Something was popping.

Laying Down The Law

"If the Pi Gam submit Malone's name as a candidate I'll bet it's because they're figuring on undertaking something more important than a campus political battle. They won't be gambling a tinselled class office that won't mean a thing a couple of years from now. They'll be gambling something much bigger. Don't make me draw you a picture. I never was much good at melodrama, and besides, I'm not equal to this. She paused, out of breath.

"But Susan," Doris pleaded, "don't you see that—"

"Yes, I see, all right," Susan interrupted. "I can see that I'm going to have to hold every girl in this house personally accountable for any action they take in the step you suggest, because it won't be much fun living here with people who can't see a simple, moral course of action."

Jane whistled. "Nice going, Susie, and allow me to stick my cent and a half in. I know Martha Vaughan well enough to bet she won't have a thing to do with the student court business if it means sticky politics. And as I recall, we have some kind of gentlemen's agreement with the Pi Gam to back their candidates at this year's Caucuses."

"Miss Drake, did Humphries at any time mention to you that he was working on a so-called invention? You used to see him quite a bit, and we know he was—shall we say—quite interested in you. That's why he might have dropped some word to you about it."

"Invention?" Susan echoed wonderingly. "No, he never said anything about it, not the barest hint. However, that doesn't preclude the possibility he was working on something. But why don't you ask Dr. Coulter? He probably could tell you better than I could."

The telephone on Hinton's desk rang just then and he answered. "Hello—yes, put him on..."

Hinton's eyebrows raised slightly.

But at lunch the next day Jane brought the news that forestalled any possibility of a delicate situation at the Delta Sigma house.

"I saw Eddie this morning," she told Susan. "And I asked him about that rumor Doris was telling us about last night. Well, in the first place he cussed because there had been a leak. In the second place, he admitted it was true—but it's all over now. Todd backed out a couple of nights ago. No reason—but Eddie said none of the boys pressed him for any."

"Possibly you know," Jane continued with a sidelong glance at Susan, "that the big ape had been as close-mouthed as the proverbial clam, as sour as the well-known lemon, and as easy to live with as a Gestapo agent. A cheerful ray of sunshine all the way around."

"Yes—I had heard," Susan said evenly. "And about the politics, I think I'm glad, Jane, that he isn't going to be a candidate. I'm glad there isn't a chance for him to be thrown for another loss."

"You figure he would have lost?"

"Maybe not. I was thinking of the chance of losing and the effect it might have had on him."

Hot Tip

The next day Susan received a phone call from the district attorney's office. Mr. Hinton wanted to see her, could she come down that afternoon?

Susan had other plans but she knew she'd have to discard them. When she walked into Hinton's office he rose to greet her, drew up a chair for her.

"Miss Drake, I sent for you because we've discovered something of particular interest about Philip Humphries. Perhaps you can be of further help."

"I'll be glad to if I can."

"We have reason to believe," Hinton continued, "in fact we know, that Humphries owed a large gambling debt at a place known as the Trinidad Club. Now, it also happens that a police informer who frequents the place has come to us with the information that one night Humphries stood at the Trinidad bar with Riley Beckett, the proprietor, and mentioned he was working on an invention which would make him a fortune. The implication was that Beckett would not have to worry about Humphries' debt."

"Miss Drake, did Humphries at any time mention to you that he was working on a so-called invention? You used to see him quite a bit, and we know he was—shall we say—quite interested in you. That's why he might have dropped some word to you about it."

"Invention?" Susan echoed wonderingly. "No, he never said anything about it, not the barest hint. However, that doesn't preclude the possibility he was working on something. But why don't you ask Dr. Coulter? He probably could tell you better than I could."

The telephone on Hinton's desk rang just then and he answered. "Hello—yes, put him on..."

Hinton's eyebrows raised slightly.

HOLD AGED MAN IN WIFE'S DEATH

Phillipsburg, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Centre county Coroner Charles Scheckler today listed as murder and suicide the bludgeoning to death of Mrs. Kathryn Kadaish 67, and the serious injuring of her 72-year-old husband on their farm near here.

Joseph Kadaish "admitted striking his wife on the head with an axe," he declared, "and there is no doubt he later attempted to take his own life."

State police found Mrs. Kadaish's body slumped over a milk stool in the Kadaish barn in Mulligan Hollow near Osceola Mills. The husband, a former miner, was discovered later sprawled across a bed in his home, his neck wounded.

District Attorney Musser Gettig of Centre county said Kadaish is being held under guard at the Phillipsburg state hospital on a technical murder charge. Attendants give him an even chance to recover.

The only witness to the slaying, Scheckler declared, was a 12-year-

Then he said, "Come right down here, Lake."

Hinton turned to Susan. I'm sorry you had to come down here for such a brief visit, but something important has just turned up

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: Miss Maggie Gelvin, of near Idaville, died Sunday a week. Aged about 30 years. She was very large, weighing about 400.

Two sets of single harness were stolen on last Tuesday night from Charles J. Toot, of this place.

It is expected that the new Catholic church in Littlestown, will be completed by Christmas. It will be lighted by gas.

The hunting season has opened and many rabbits and partridges are to be seen in the market.

We have been requested to state that the reported sales of the lot on which the Episcopal chapel stands is incorrect. It was bought for and will be used for religious purposes.

A large audience greeted Miss Adela Rankin on Thursday evening in the Lecture room of the Presbyterian church, when she gave her readings and recitations for the benefit of the Band of Hope. Miss Rankin was at her best and her audience was very appreciative. A pleasing feature of the entertainment was the music of the band.

William T. Ziegler and James M. Caldwell have bought the five houses on Washington street, from the Koser estate for $2450.

U. S. Relations With French People Is Not Broken

VICHY TIE MAY BE "SEVERED" BY AMBASSADOR

By WADE WERNER

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—For the first time in more than a century France today was without formal diplomatic representation in the United States, but the people of that Axis-yoked country had President Roosevelt's assurance that "we have not broken relations with the French."

The President pointed out in a statement yesterday that there was nothing the United States could do about the Vichy government's announced severance of relations with this country.

"Nevertheless," he added, "no act of Hitler or of any of his puppets can sever relations between the American people and the people of France. We have not broken relations with the French. We never will."

Ambassador Is Free
Because there was nothing else to do about it, the State department yesterday formally completed the break announced Sunday by chief of government Pierre Laval. It sent the French ambassador his passports, thus officially ending the career of Gaston Henry-Haye as Vichy's emissary in Washington and terminating the functions of his embassy.

There was no talk of internment Henry-Haye and his staff, as German, Japanese and Italian diplomats were interned last December.

Washington acquaintances of Henry-Haye recalled that he was in this country for some time during the last war and seemed vividly to remember the warm spirit of Franco-American comradeship everywhere apparent in those days. Some of these acquaintances saw, or thought they saw, indications that he would repudiate his Vichy connection and adhere to the Allied cause. Half a dozen members of the embassy staff already have taken this course in the past year.

Neither President Roosevelt nor Secretary of State Hull gave any indication that the break with Vichy would change the status of the Free French delegation here, presently headed by Adrien Tixier. Tixier himself told reporters such a question was something he could not properly discuss.

Flashes of Life
Ansonia, Conn. (AP)—Frank Loga, an alderman for several terms who declined to seek reelection this year, attended his last meeting last night, and his fellow board members presented him with a token of their esteem.

It was a one-pound tin of coffee, packed in 1917.

FORECAST COLDER
Philadelphia (AP)—Alexander Bauer told Judge Curtis Bok he was willing to serve as a juror but he was afraid food would spoil in his bachelor apartment ice-box.

The judge sent Bauer home with a court officer, with instructions to ice up and return.

SOMETHING'S BREWING
Albuquerque, N. Mex. (AP)—A burglar broke into Mrs. Betty Reid's home.

He didn't take anything. He just looked the place over and left—after brewing and drinking a cup of coffee.

FIREMAN, SAVE MY TIRE!
Kansas City (AP)—The flames shot up from the wrecked automobile. Herman Robinson cried frantically for help.

"Somebody under the wreckage?" asked a helping-hand motorist.

"No," answered Robinson, "but will you lend me your lug wrench?" The motorist was glad to oblige. Robinson saved two of his tires.

General Crawford Dead: Brigadier General Samuel Wyke Crawford, U. S. A., retired, died Thursday at the Colonnade hotel, Philadelphia, from the effects of a paralytic stroke.

General Crawford was born in Franklin County on November 2, 1829. In 1864 he became an assistant surgeon in the United States Army. Early in 1903 he was placed in command of the Pennsylvania Reserves, then stationed at Washington, and with these troops was engaged at Gettysburg serving with great bravery and valor.

U.S. Troops Leave Britain For Africa

Carrying full packs, American troops board a transport at an embarkation point somewhere in Great Britain, their destination French north Africa. (U.S. Signal Corps photo transmitted by radio from London.)

SEAPOWERS IS BIG STICK OF ALLIED DRIVE

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by Dewitt MacKenzie, war analyst, is written today by Glenn Babb. Mr. MacKenzie, now touring the war zones, is traveling.)

The big headlines are going to the landing parties of commandos and infantry, the tank fighters and airmen who are nailing down all North Africa, from the Atlantic to the Red sea, for the United Nations. But while the victories are being won on African deserts and beaches and in the skies we are reminded that none of this would have been possible without Allied command of the seas.

All the new weapons and new tactics that this war has evolved have not shaken the place of seapower as the foundation on which the United Nations are building victory. "If only there were a land bridge to Africa," moaned a Berlin commentator last week as he tried to explain away the disaster that had befallen Rommel in Egypt. But there is no land bridge to Egypt and none to Morocco and so Hitler, like Napoleon and the Kaiser, is confined to the solid limits of Europe while the armadas of his enemies make the seven seas foam as they dispose the great armies that are to choke him to death.

Seapower Is Dominant
Seapower has beaten all the aspirations for world dominion since civilization spread from its old world cradle. Its elements have changed since Mahan wrote, and the air-plane and submarine are as essential as the surface ship, out its fundamental place has not altered.

General Eisenhower, who commands America's vast new African campaign, warmly acknowledges the role of the British and United States Navies in the undertaking. "Nothing short of marvelous," he says of the way the Navies handled this most ambitious and spectacular overseas expedition in military history. But the sea forces' contribution was no less vital to the Eighth Army's triumph in Egypt although spread over dreary years in time and the longest supply route ever maintained for a major military operation.

The United Nations have been nearest ultimate defeat in those areas where for the time being they have lost command of the seas, in the western Pacific, where Japan still is dominant, and the Mediterranean, where land-based air power has nullified the rule of the fighting ship. Eventually the productive capacity of American shipyards should take care of the former problem. The latter seems to be approaching early solution. When Oran and Bizerte are in Allied hands the German-Italian bases on Sicily and Pantelleria will lose much of their power to punish.

No Italian Enthusiasm
It remains to be seen whether the Axis, confronted with the threat of being swept from the Mediterranean, will be pushed into challenging the British and American fleets on the surface.

By now the fate of the six Fascist divisions who followed Rommel into Egypt must be known widely throughout Italy and this knowledge will not increase the Fascist Navy's enthusiasm for fighting for the Hitlerian new order. The Italians also know by now that Admiral Cunningham, whose torpedo planes crippled their capital ship strength at Taranto and whose ships wrecked their cruiser strength at Cape Matapan, is flying his standard again in the Mediterranean, on guard against any Axis attempt to contest the shores of Algeria or Tunisia with Eisenhower's men. The Allies have good reason for confidence that the Mediterranean soon will be theirs to travel freely again.

Object To "High Command" Liaison

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Proposals for a joint House and Senate "high command" committee on the conduct of the war were confronted Monday with the prospect of stiff opposition from the democratic leadership.

An unofficial, but authoritative, source reported that the majority leadership would resist "and make it stick" any attempt on the part of the republicans to form a liaison committee between Congress and the administration's war agencies.

But, despite that opposition, a move for the formation of such a committee, originally advocated by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) to coordinate congressional action on war legislation, appeared to be gaining strength with the republican election resurgence.

FARMERS PLAN TO SLASH CROP HARVEST IN '43

Upper Darby, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—An "alarming tendency" among eastern farmers to reduce production next year was reported today by the Farm Security administration, which attributed the trend to "the certainty of an even greater scarcity of farm labor."

J. H. Wood, regional FSA director, said a survey of farm owners in the Maine-through-Maryland region showed "a tide of despondency" and added that if production is curtailed "it will seriously jeopardize the war effort" and endanger public health.

"Just as 'food can win the war and write the peace,'" he said, "so can lack of it lose both."

Urges Farm Camps
Wood recommended the establishment of more migratory farm labor camps and the relocation of "vast numbers" of farm families from unproductive to productive lands to prevent a food shortage.

"We have proof that these problems can be solved," he said, citing the FSA's experience in relocations and labor housing in critical areas. "But we'll have to have funds and authority to do it—now. Farmers are planning 1943 production now. They won't wait 'till too late' for an answer."

Fourteen migratory camps in the east supplied farmers with between 225,000 and 250,000 man-days of labor during 1942—"enough to harvest a trainload of lend-lease commodities extending from Philadelphia to Washington," Wood said, and the demand for more camps, as shown in the survey, "is tremendous."

Many Farm Sales
There has been a "disturbing number" of farm sales and abandonments, as well as auctions of livestock and equipment, he added, "despite the fact that with transportation burdened as it is, eastern agriculture is of vital importance to our great cities and industries."

"We have been thinking in terms of feeding both our allies and, when we have beaten them, our enemies," he said. "But unless action is taken at once, we are going to have to think hard about feeding our allies and our armed forces abroad, worry about feeding ourselves—and to hell with our enemies."

The word Jehovah occurs nearly 7,000 times in the Old Testament.

Congresswoman To Care For Sons

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's first Congresswoman, Mrs. Patrick J. Boland, heads back to Washington and familiar scenes soon, but she won't let law-making interfere with the duties of motherhood.

The widow of the Democratic whip in the House, who died on the eve of the May primaries, says (will travel back and forth from capital in order to supervise the care of her sons, Patrick, 10, and Eugene, 8, who will remain here.

Mrs. Boland was elected without Republican opposition last week to serve the remaining two months of her husband's term. She will be one of nine women members of Congress. She plans to leave for Washington as soon as the official election count is certified.

She says she favors the draft of 18 and 19-year-old boys and "I certainly hope it will pass."

"If the heads of the Navy and War departments decide that they need them, we shouldn't tie their hands. They're running the war and we don't know how it's going to go in a year or so. If they must take the young boys, it's better to take them in now and train them before they are sent to battle."

Some statisticians estimate that the population of South America, which in 1940 was about 100,000,000, will double in the next 29 years.

Guard Against Wartime Constipation!

It's frequently due to lack of "bulk"

Millions of folks these war days feel all dragged out, with no zip or pep. And no wonder! Their working, sleeping, and especially their eating habits are all different. Meals are apt to be hurried, improperly balanced—and they neglect the important matter of "bulk" in the diet.

Yet getting enough "bulk" might make all the difference. For lack of it is one of the common causes of constipation. Medicinal laxatives give only temporary relief in such cases; they don't get at the cause.

But ALL-BEAN'S ALL-BEAN corrects this constipation by supplying the needed "bulk"; often brings lasting freedom from the trouble. Eat this crisp, delicious cereal regularly, drink plenty of water and "Join the Regulars." ALL-BEAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.
